IIT-GUWAHATI DEVELOPS INJECTABLE HYDROGEL FOR CANCER TREATMENT

Researchers developed an advanced injectable hydrogel for localised cancer treatment with fewer side effects than conventional treatments

TARGETED DRUG RELEASE CAN CUT SIDE EFFECTS

Hydrogel is a water-based, three-dimensional polymer network that can absorb and retain fluids. It can act as a stable reservoir for anti-cancer drugs. It responds to high glutathione (GSH) levels, a molecule found in cancer cells. Upon encountering high GSH levels, it releases the drug in a targeted manner, not affecting nearby cells, leading to fewer side effects

TUMOUR SHRINKS 75% WITHIN 18 DAYS

- "In preclinical trials, a single injection of the hydrogel, loaded with the chemotherapy drug Doxorubicin, resulted in a ~75% reduction in tumour size within 18 days," professor Debapratim Das of IIT-G said
- The research was conducted in collaboration with Bose Institute, Kolkata. It has been published in the journal Materials Horizons

Head coach Gambhir's ambiguous reply gives new twist to Rohit not figuring in the playing XI for Sydney Test saga

RESTED?

GOMESH S @ Sydney

WITH less than 24 hours to go for the Sydney Test, the India team did not know who would come out for toss. Or so it seems.

"The answer remains the same." That was what India team head coach Gautam Gambhir had to say when he was asked whether Rohit Sharma will be in the playing XI for the fifth and final Test between India and Australia that begins on Friday. "We are going to take a look at the wicket and probably announce our playing XI tomorrow," Gambhir said moments earlier. Probably for any other player this would have been an apt answer but for a captain who has been appointed for a series this seemed little ambiguous. Whether resting was the decision of the team management or Rohit's was also not clear.

India begin their last match of the tour amid speculation of dressing room drama and Gambhir's stern warning to players over not performing well. Even before a ball was bowled there seemed to be intrigue over Sharma's position in the team. There were multiple indications, including his time in the nets, that suggest he is all set to be replaced. In fact, there are indications that he has told the team about his decision to opt out. This could be one of those rare instances when a captain has been dropped on poor form and for India this could be one of the first instances when a captain has been dropped or opted out.

Gambhir made it clear during the briefing that performance alone matters. "Indian cricket's transition is in safe hands as long as there are honest people in the dressing room. Only criteria to be in that dressing room is performance," he said.

In that case, Shubman Gill is set to walk in at No 3 and in-form Jasprit Bumrah will lead in the absence of Sharma, who has been out of form, scoring only 31 runs at an average of 6.2 from five innings so far. He lost two Tests after joining the team in Australia. With the home series loss against New Zealand, pressure was mounting on the Indian captain.

If nets were any indication, Sharma, who was not much involved for the better part while India were training. He could be seen chatting with Washington Sundar, Bumrah, Gill before batting briefly along with the backup batters towards the end. It was not until most of the drill was over that Sharma and Gambhir were seen together alongside Bumrah.

If Sharma gets dropped, which is most likely as of Thursday evening, MCG Test could be his last as a Test player. For India, a win in Sydney would help retain the Border-Gavaskar Trophy and keep World Test Championship hopes alive. P15

WHAT NEXT FOR ROHIT?

Rohit Sharma's future, with England visiting India for a white-ball series (five T20Is and three ODIs) in January before the Champions Trophy, depends on him and what he decides. His ODI numbers have been exceptional and he could lead the team against England after a possible meeting with selectors.

BUMRAH LIKELY TO CAPTAIN INDIA

Jasprit Bumrah, the vice captain, has been the team's top performer with 30 wickets in four outings at an astonishing 12.83 average, is expected to take over if Rohit sits out. Under Bumrah's captaincy that India won the first Test in Perth.

15% bus fare hike in K'taka from Jan 5

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

FROM January 5, fares of state-owned KSRTC, BMTC, NERTC and NWRTC buses will be increased by 15%. The state cabinet on Thursday approved a proposal to revise fares of ordinary and air-conditioned buses run by the four RTCs.

Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister HK Patil told reporters that the cabinet has given administrative approval for revision of bus fares.

Patil said the RTCs spent Rs 13.21 crore a day on fuel. Ten years ago, diesel price was Rs 60.98 per litre and the RTCs spent Rs 9.16 crore a day on it. The expenditure on employees, which was Rs 12.85 crore, has increased to Rs 18.36 crore. The financial burden on the RTCs has increased and hence, fares have been revised.

The proposal was for a fare hike by 13 to 15%. "We decided to hike it by 15%. Fares in buses run by RTCs in Karnataka are lesser than those in Maharashtra, Telangana and Andhra Pradesh," he said.

He, however, said that the state government will not stop its ambitious Shakti free ride guarantee for women. With the fare revision, the RTCs are expected to generate an additional revenue of Rs 74.85 crore a month.

"We have earmarked Rs 5015 crore for Shakti scheme in our budget, and Rs 417 crore is released to the four RTCs every month. This has not affected the state's finances. Karnataka is one of the best states in managing finances," he said.

Patil said the cabinet also approved a proposal to obtain loans amounting to Rs 2,000 crore by the RTCs towards payment of provident fund dues and the expenditure on fuel till November 2024. Asked if the RTCs will get loans from financial institutions, he said they will get based on their income-generating capacity.

BJP has criticised the state government for increasing bus fares by 15%. State unit president BY Vijayendra said the government has launched five guarantees, but it is unable to mobilise funds for them. The transport corporations have gone bankrupt because of the Shakti guarantee.

Work not over yet, Waqf JPC could miss Budget session deadline as well

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

THE Joint Parliamentary Committee (JPC) examining the Waqf Amendment Bill may miss the next deadline of the Budget session of Parliament, scheduled to begin on January 30, according to sources.

The committee headed by BJP MP Jagadambika Pal is scheduled to present its report on the last day of the Budget session after missing the first deadline of the just concluded winter session of Parliament. The Budget session is expected to conclude on February 12.

The Centre may now push the report for the Monsoon session as the committee will not be able to complete its work by the stipulated deadline, said people aware of the developments.

Another key reason, according to sources, is the strong opposition from NDA allies Telugu Desam Party and the Janata Dal (United) over the proposed legislation. Several Muslim groups in Andhra Pradesh and Bihar have been opposing most of the amendments, including the appointment of non-Muslims as members of the Central Waqf Council and state Waqf Boards.

"The government has not given any assurance to TDP or JD (U) on bringing any changes in the contentious proposals. The JD(U) does not want to risk its electoral prospects in view of the impending assembly elections in Bihar," said a party leader, adding that the TDP and JD(U) enjoy a strong support base of minorities in their states. Though the government had listed the Waqf bill for passage during the winter session, the panel sought an extension after a showdown with the Opposition.

Speaking to this paper, a panel member said it is impossible for the committee to meet the deadline as it will take a long time to record the concerns of lakhs of witnesses. "The chairman is under pressure from the Opposition to hear out stakeholders who have real concerns. The committee has not followed due process till now," said an Opposition member.

1,228 graft cases pending before Lokayukta

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

AS MANY as 1,228 cases under the Prevention of Corruption Act against elected representatives and government officials are pending before the Karnataka Lokayukta.

Corruption cases against Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar, former CMs BS Yediyurappa and HD Kumaraswamy, and minister Zameer Ahmed Khan are among them.

Some cases have been pending for more than 10 years. Of the 1,228 cases, only 337 have been sent for sanction for prosecution. But the authorities have given sanction only for prosecution in 142 cases. During the recent winter session in Belagavi, Siddaramaiah, in his reply in the Council to BJP's DS Arun, stated that many cases needed legal opinion, some of the accused had obtained stay orders, and a few needed opinion from heads of various departments to proceed further.

Corruption cases have also been registered against many MLAs, including BY Vijayendra, ST Somashekar and Gali Janardhan Reddy, and many former legislators, including Madal Virupaksha and Chowdareddy. P4

Woman kills husband for bid to rape daughter, held

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Belagavi

Srimant Itnal and his wife Savitri

POLICE have arrested a woman for allegedly murdering her husband who attempted to rape their daughter at Umarani near Chikkodi on Wednesday night.

After murdering him, she chopped his body into pieces and buried them in a field, according to sources. The deceased has been identified as Srimant Itnal and his wife as Savithri.

When Savithri refused to cooperate with him, Itnal attempted to rape their daughter. Enraged by this, Savitri smashed his head with a stone and murdered him. She later chopped his body into pieces, put them into a barrel, rolled it to the field nearby and buried them, the sources said.

After returning home, Savitri packed the knife and the machete she used to chop Itnal's body, his blood-stained clothes and a mattress in a gunny bag, tied a stone to it and dumped it into a well.

She also dumped the barrel into the well and washed the stone with which she smashed her husband's head and kept it in a shed. Savitri warned her elder daughter, who woke up when she was cleaning the house, not to disclose anything about the murder. When local police recovered Itnal's body parts in the field, she confessed to the crime, the sources said.

Manu, Gukesh among 4 Khel Ratna awardees

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

AS 2024 was an Olympic year, there were exceptions to the number of Dhyan Chand Khel Ratna 2024 awardees and also the Arjuna Awards list. Expectedly, the list— released by the sports ministry on Thursday—is dominated by Olympic and Paralympic winners. D Gukesh, who became the youngest world chess champion in December, too is in the list.

Speculation over Manu Bhaker not being considered for Khel Ratna turned out to be false. India men's hockey team captain Harmanpreet Singh, who won bronze in 2024 Olympics—his second medal after Tokyo 2020—too featured among the four chosen for the country's highest sports awards. Para athlete high jumper Praveen Kumar is the fourth name.

There were reports that Manu was not on the list but the sports ministry's official announcement included her name. Interestingly, Manu had not applied. It is not clear whether Gukesh's name was added after his spectacular win on December 12.

It is learnt that the awards committee met a couple of days after the chess final. It is understood that the panel had taken cognisance of applications but the final list was made after the sports ministry included two more names as per the latest rules.

Coffee Board to launch India's own certification process

It will be a welcome relief for coffee growers as they are currently bound by international standards

RISHITA KHANNA @Bengaluru

IN a first, the Coffee Board is set to introduce India's own coffee standards and certification process to recognise the country's unique coffee varieties.

Coffee standards are rules set to ensure that the produce is grown, processed, and sold in a way that is consistent, of good quality, and enjoyable to drink. These standards cover everything from how coffee is grown and harvested to how it is processed and packed and evaluated for taste and aroma. The certification process involves checking if coffee producers follow guidelines that focus on quality, the environment, and social practices.

Till now, Indian growers were bound by international standards that did not account for the unique conditions in which their coffee thrives, such as cultivation under two-tier thick tree shade.

The board has introduced this plan in response to the high costs of certification, which have hindered many growers from showcasing their coffee internationally. With nearly 85% of Indian coffee remaining uncertified due to lakhs of rupees in costs for international certification, the new Indian standards will come as a welcome relief as certification will now be free, offering a significant opportunity for growers.

Dr KG Jagadeesha, secretary and CEO of the Coffee Board of India, told TNIE that the process is currently in its first stage and aims to position Indian coffee as a unique product with its own distinct identity. "Until now, most coffee varieties have been certified under international standards, which group all types of coffee together under the same conditions. However, Indian coffee is grown in special conditions. This certification process will recognise and highlight these unique growing conditions, helping Indian coffee stand out and gain its own global recognition," he said.

Dr Jagadeesha said the cost of certifying, as per international standards even for a small five-acre estate, can range from Rs 3-4 lakh, while board's certification will be of zero-cost. Growers have to meet strict requirements, filling in various gaps to ensure that their plantations are sustainable.

While experts and a technical core team have finished developing documents, industry professionals are currently drafting the implementation modules, which will be completed in four months, Dr Jagadeesha said.

After this, the technical team will hold consultations with stakeholders and innovative growers to assess whether the procedures are feasible. The process will involve meeting several parameters. Once the estate meets the requirements, an external inspector will visit them for a final assessment.

STRENGHTHEN EDU SECTOR

'Implement RTE in full, allocate bigger budget, fill teacher vacancies'

RISHITA KHANNA @Bengaluru

AS the new year begins, the problems that continue to hinder Karnataka's education system show no sign of easing.

Experts say that immediate attention is required, with a strong focus on creating a road map to implement the Right to Education (RTE) effectively, addressing teacher vacancies, providing increased allocation and reviving initiatives that once helped students, such as providing bicycles to girls for better school access.

Without a clear strategy and renewed investment in these areas, experts argue that the state risks letting another year slip by with the same systemic issues that put students at a disadvantage.

Child rights activist Nagasimha G Rao emphasized the urgent need for the state government to implement robust child protection policies. These measures must be monitored and strictly enforced to safeguard children's well-being, he said. Rao also highlighted the importance of addressing teachers' needs, and providing adequate facilities and support for teachers.

Many schools continue to struggle with single-teacher setups, lack of teachers, and numerous vacancies, exposing a glaring gap in the system. The failure to address these issues points to a serious lapse in the department's priorities, he said.

Development educationist Professor Niranjanaradhya said the government must focus on strengthening secondary education, and highlighted alarming statistics that reveal poor enrolment rates. It is time the government addresses these issues to improve access and retention in secondary education, he said.

Niranjanaradhya also advocated reintroducing initiatives that once played a role in boosting student enrolment and attendance. He gave the example of providing bicycles for girls, a programme that not only improved attendance but also encouraged higher enrolment rates, particularly in rural areas. "Education should be incentivized with practical measures that remove barriers and motivate students to continue their schooling," he added, urging the government to prioritize similar schemes.

At the higher education level, basic infrastructure continues to falter. While students often manage to cope with a lack of resources, the absence of qualified teachers is a barrier. "Without educators, no amount of infrastructure or facilities can make up for the lack of quality education," Niranjanaradhya emphasized.

He argued that the key to improving the education system lies in addressing long-standing gaps. He also spoke of the need for increased budget allocation to enhance infrastructure and facilities and said that only by bridging these gaps can the state ensure progress in education at all levels.

eKYC for India Post savings accounts soon

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

IN a relief to postal savings account holders across the country, India Post is set to launch electronic Know Your Customers (eKYC) next week. The move will benefit nearly 1.9 crore savings account holders in the Karnataka Postal Circle.

Chief Postmaster General (CPMG) of the Circle, Rajendra S Kumar told TNIE, "As per RBI guidelines, KYC documents need to be submitted every three years by account holders. Public need not carry originals of documents to post offices now." Documents to confirm identify and proof of residence are required to complete the KYC process.

"KYC will be established through Aadhaar authentication on the Unique Identification Authority of India portal. This is only the first step towards taking the process completely online," the CPMG explained.

As of now, the public still has to visit post offices to give their finger prints (biometric verification). "We plan to incorporate this feature in our mobile app, so there is no need for customers to visit the post office," he added.

After eKYC is in place, account holders can visit the India Post website: indiapost.gov.in, opt for the e-banking option, and use the login id to access it. The biggest advantage is that in future, people can open new postal accounts without carrying any original documents. "The postal department will confirm the credentials using Aadhaar authentication," Kumar said.

To mark the New Year, the Karnataka Postal Circle on Wednesday issued a unique special cancellation with the words 'Happy New Year 2025' in Kannada, Hindi and English. "It is a perfect keepsake for philatelists and collectors alike," said an official statement.

Demanding fixed wages and incentives, ASHA workers protest at Freedom Park in Bengaluru on Thursday | ALLEN EGENUSE J

ASHA workers to go on indefinite strike

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

ASHA workers in Karnataka are set to go on an indefinite strike starting January 7 at Freedom Park, demanding fixed wages and incentives. Despite their role in delivering healthcare services, around 42,000 workers argue that they have faced years of unfulfilled promises, delayed payments and inadequate compensation from the government, despite multiple requests.

Apart from demanding a fixed monthly honorarium of Rs 15,000, ASHA workers are calling for an increase of Rs 2,000 for city-based workers, which they say is mandatory to meet the higher cost of living in urban areas. They further demanded the immediate release of pending incentives which have not been paid for the last 2-3 months.

Another key demand is the withdrawal of an official memorandum issued on November 28, 2024, which mandates that ASHA workers use smartphones for their tasks. The workers argued that this directive places an undue burden on them and raised demands for compensation for the mobile-related tasks or alternative arrangements for those unable to comply with the directive.

The protestors are also demanding a service pension of Rs 5 lakh per annum, similar to amount given to workers in other states like West Bengal, apart from annual health check-ups and free treatment for severe diseases. Moreover, as part of their overall demands, Asha workers demanded to be recognised as formal employees, with benefits such as gratuity, PF, and Employee State Insurance.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

03rd January: Taurus is my featured sign for the day. Its qualities are conservative, and since ancient times it has been connected with India through its sister-sign, Capricorn. Many astrologers think this is why India preserves some of the world's most ancient religious beliefs and customs, many of which have had an increasing influence on the rest of the world.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Mars, planet of assertion and energy, encourages a high-spending mentality. General conditions are genuinely prosperous and profitable, but it's up to you to pick the offers that provide real rewards and avoid those which could lead you up a blind alley. It's all in the small print!

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
You are not known as an impatient or intolerant person, but you do have your belligerent side. It's not that I think arguments are wrong that I advise caution now, but since it looks as if you may go off at half-cock, you could actually make matters worse. Stay cool and make things better!

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Business influences loom large. We're talking about commitments in the order of large purchases, domestic outlay and even property acquisitions. Overall, it's not a time for bargains. Your extravagant tendencies extend towards partnership proposals, and a lavish gesture could secure your ends.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Look forward beyond immediate strains and see that your innate charm and personal grace are your biggest joint asset. Be confident and realise that, with a flutter of your eyelashes and a discreet wink, you can wrap almost anyone around your little finger.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
You are currently blessed with remarkable sensitivity and intuition. The only question is whether you can distinguish genuine perceptions from idle hopes, wishes and fears. This is not as easy as it sounds, especially as the facts seem to be shielded by a layer of fantasy.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
A colleague or business associate should be taken to task although, if legal questions are on the agenda, you may be motivated by the broad spirit rather than the precise letter of the law. In other words, you're after justice rather than revenge!

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
If you have been using finances as a lever to pressurise other people or have applied money as a means of emotional manipulation, then please take care. Any and all such devious actions may be about to blow up in your face. And that's precisely why you'd better play it straight.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
If you're undecided, then why don't you wait until after the weekend before taking a firm choice as to the next stage or phase of activity. Above all, remember that current planetary influences tend to make you impulsive, reckless and liable to go over the top.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
You have some very intense needs at the moment, like your desire to be understood for a start! You're also in an ambitious mood; self-motivation is all very well, but you may pick up the wrong end of the stick. Don't take secret fears and worries too seriously. For some reason, your imagination is trying to wind you up!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
It's an uneven moment and you're picking up mixed messages from close partners. Even if all is sweetness and light there are rumblings of discontent. If you are able, you must be flexible with people who deserve your consideration, but firm with those who do not.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
You may feel pulled in two directions, not necessarily a bad thing. You'll re-examine your choices and review all outstanding options. Over the coming days, home and family, emotion and intellect, imagination and practicality will appear as irreconcilable. The truth, however, may point in a different direction.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You may have become accustomed to being used as a sounding board for other people's complaints and problems. Possibly you should tell partners and colleagues to stop whingeing and get on with their lives. But do so in a way which doesn't offend unnecessarily.

Focus should be on women's health, emergency care & training: Experts

RISHITA KHANNA @Bengaluru

AS we step into 2025, challenges from 2024 still loom large. Issues such as rising maternal deaths and the spread of counterfeit medicines have exposed serious weaknesses in the state's healthcare system. In 2024, the state introduced several key laws, including the hookah ban, colour ban, and Gruha Arogya scheme, which positioned it for progress. However, experts warn that 2025 must be the year when these laws are fully implemented, ensuring they bring about real change and impact.

Dr Ramesh GH, head of Emergency and Critical Care at BMCRI, emphasized that while 2024 brought a series of alarming incidents, they all underscored that without a solid foundation, the lives of countless individuals who rely on government healthcare facilities will continue to be at risk. From strengthening critical care units and emergency departments to ensuring properly trained staff and robust infrastructure, these are the essential steps the state must take. Only then can it truly live up to the promises it has made and deliver the quality care it claims to provide.

Pointing to incidents like the Rameshwaram Cafe blast, which hit and left victims and their families in shock, Dr Ramesh underlined the urgent need for a strong disaster management system. Such emergencies result in life-threatening injuries — lung damage, brain trauma, eye injuries, eardrum perforations, abdominal wounds and broken bones. In these moments, emergency physicians, along with paramedics, nurses, and other support staff, are critical in saving lives, performing life-saving procedures on the spot or at the hospital. The state must prioritize building a robust disaster management system to handle such situations effectively, he said.

In the light of a series of maternal health issues that were reported in Ballari, Dr Vishal Rao, Group Director, Head and Neck Surgical Oncology and Robotic Surgery, HCG Cancer Centre, stressed that the state government needs to shift its focus from just maternal health to overall women's health.

He stressed that a woman's health is shaped long before motherhood, starting as early as the age of 9. Ignoring this crucial phase leads to situations like maternal deaths and life-threatening complications. Vaccination and screening for girls aged 9-14 cannot wait. He warned that while many laws have been introduced, the true state of the health department will be judged by its actions, not promises. Without timely implementation and strong support, the system risks failing an entire generation.

Dr Manoj Sharma, Professor of Clinical Psychology and coordinator of the Service of Healthy Use of Technology (SHUT) clinic at Nimhans, stressed the urgent need for the government to implement awareness campaigns addressing the growing problem of screen time addiction and its harmful effects. He pointed out that children are becoming increasingly dependent on digital media, which is leading to serious behavioral and health concerns like obesity. Immediate action is required to tackle this rising issue and safeguard the well-being of the younger generation.

Dr Manoj also pointed out that a growing number of people are facing mental health issues after falling victim to cybercrime, and stressed the need for strong awareness campaigns to address this issue and help individuals recognize and protect themselves from such threats.

The integration of advanced technologies could make 2025 a transformative year for healthcare, Dr Vivek Jawali, chairman of Cardiac Sciences at Fortis Hospital, said. He highlighted how AI in medicine can revolutionize patient care by enabling personalized treatment and preventive strategies, significantly improving outcomes. It also has the potential to enhance responses to global crises such as pandemics, wars, famine and climate change, he said.

While Dr Jawali stressed the advancements in gene technologies which promise groundbreaking progress in cancer treatment and gene editing, he warned that the rising costs of these innovations pose a serious challenge, and their benefits will ultimately depend on how governments balance affordability with accessibility.

Health dept to hire specialists on per-day, per-case basis

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

TO address the shortage of medical specialists in the state, the health department on Thursday announced the introduction of alternative recruitment options. The new recruitment methods include hiring specialists on a per-day basis at ABArK scheme rates and on a per-case basis.

Under the per-day basis option, specialists will be paid Rs 3,930 a day, calculated by dividing the monthly remuneration of a contract specialist by the number of working days in the month. Specialists hired in this manner will be required to work a minimum of two days a week.

The ABArK scheme offers an incentive-based pay for specialists in fields like OBG, anesthesia and surgery. The incentive will be a percentage of the total cost of procedures performed, similar to what is paid in private hospitals.

The health commissioner will issue guidelines to ensure that unnecessary procedures are not conducted to increase incentives. For radiologists, the new method involves hiring on a per-case basis. Specialists will be paid for services like radiographs, CT scans and MRIs, with the option to certify the scans in person or through a tele-radiology system.

Local tenders will determine the rates, and the commissioner will set ceiling rates for these services. Proposals can be submitted for approval until ceiling rates are fixed. The costs for these recruitment methods will be covered with ABArK funds.

Specialists can be hired for a period of one year with the possibility of extending the hiring for an additional six months, subject to a review of the implementation process and challenges faced. The government order has been approved by the finance department and will remain in effect till June 30. It may be renewed after evaluating its effectiveness, the department said.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

AS many as 52 bikes, including both brand new and the ones left for servicing, were completely gutted in a fire that broke out at a bike showroom in Mahadevapura police limits on Wednesday night. No one was injured as the showroom was closed around 7 pm.

Three fire tenders rushed to the spot and doused the flames before it spread to neighbouring buildings. There was another two-wheeler showroom in the adjacent building and its staff managed to evacuate. The fire broke out due to a suspected electric short circuit.

The fire did not come to anyone's notice till the entire showroom went up in flames. The fire had also spread to the service station that was located behind.

"The electrical inspector has been summoned to give a report. The exact reason for the fire is not known even though a short circuit is being suspected. The entire showroom, including the bikes, furniture, electronic items have been gutted. The exact loss is also being estimated," said an officer.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

A World Organisation for Animal Health (WOAH) reference laboratory for leptospirosis was opened at the ICAR-NIVEDI (National Institute of Veterinary Epidemiology and Disease Informatics) in the city on Thursday. Dr Himanshu Pathak, Secretary, Department of Agricultural Research & Education (DARE) and Director General (DG) of Indian Council of Agricultural Research (ICAR), inaugurated the lab.

"The laboratory is located within NIVEDI's state-of-the-art Biosafety Laboratory. It is equipped with advanced diagnostic tools and actively engages in cutting-edge research, development and capacity-building programmes, bolstering India's efforts in the global fight against leptospirosis," said Gulati

Leptospirosis is a global zoonotic disease caused by bacteria called leptospira, affecting both humans and animals. "Each year, an estimated 1.03 million people are infected, leading to about 58,900 deaths worldwide. Adult males aged 20-49 are most commonly affected. Karnataka contributed 3,267 samples, accounting for 29% of national screenings in 2024, demonstrating a proactive role in disease monitoring. Human samples dominated testing in Karnataka, with 2,790 analysed (85% of the state's total), emphasising the focus on zoonotic disease risks in humans," added Balamurugan Pathak also inaugurated the 'Hoof & Health Gate', a symbolic and functional joint entrance for ICAR-NIVEDI and ICAR-IVRI, regional campus, Bengaluru.

Valmiki, Ramayana theme for Lalbagh flower show

MOHAMMED YACOOB @ Bengaluru

THE Horticulture Department is all set to host its 215th flower show at Lalbagh Botanical Gardens. This time, the theme will revolve around Maharshi Valmiki and Ramayana.

The 11-day flower show for Republic Day spanning from January 16 to 26, will feature the replica based on the life of Maharshi Valmiki and important events from the Ramayana epic.

As the alleged scam in Maharshi Valmiki Scheduled Tribes Development Corporation landed the state Congress government in trouble, the flower show themed around Valmiki and his epic work is seen as a move to please the people belonging to the Valmiki community, who were upset by the scam.

According to Joint Director of Parks and Gardens, Department of Horticulture, M Jagadeesh, the theme is dedicated to Maharshi Valmiki, his works and inspiration to write Ramayana. A gist of a few important episodes of Ramayana will be put up and matching flower pots will be arranged to make it more attractive.

"We have taken suggestions and help from literary experts from Karnataka Sahitya Academy, referred to 40 books on Ramayana and works of Valmiki, Ramayana in various languages and Kuvempu's Sri Ramayana Darshanam's gist and its message to create the theme," said Jagadeesh.

According to the official, around 10 lakh cut flowers, including dutch roses and chrysanthemums will be used for main theme inside glass houses. To retain the freshness, after six days, 5-lakh flowers will be replaced with a new set.

From planted pots and cut flowers, the total count of flowers used for show could be around 25 lakh flowers, the official added.

SUICIDE CASE

CONTRACTOR'S FAMILY SPEAKS OUT ON DELAY IN INVESTIGATION

Sister says she will write to PM, Union HM as no action taken till now against the accused

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kalaburagi/Bidar

THE family of contractor Sachin Panchal, who died by suicide in Bidar on December 26 alleging harassment and demands of bribe by former Kalaburagi corporator Raju Kapnoor, has expressed apprehension that any delay in the probe would lead to the destruction of evidence.

Panchal's sister Surekha said even after eight days of the incident, no action has been taken against anyone.

She said let the inquiry be conducted by the CBI or CID or any independent organisations, but justice should be served. "Whoever is the guilty, they should be punished. I am frustrated at the delay in the investigation and have decided to write to the prime minister as well as the Union home minister in this regard," she said at a press conference in Bidar on Thursday.

Surekha said no one should play politics over the suicide of her brother, and demanded action against all those whose names were mentioned in her brother's death note. She also wanted the government to take action against police of Gandhi police station in Bidar and Dhannur police station in Bhalki for neglecting her brother's complaints.

"My family is in grief, but government is not taking any action. I suspect that common people would not get justice in this system. Police officers have checked the death note written by my brother. They are instead investigating whether he is a contractor or not. I am sure that the handwriting in the death note is of my younger brother and have filed a complaint," Surekha said.

This is the first time that a family member of the deceased has come out seeking an impartial inquiry into the death, suspecting that the family may not get justice.

Vishwakarma Federation state unit president Vijaykumar Pattar, who accompanied Surekha, said the government should hold an impartial probe. He said the government should find out who is Raju Kapnoor, why the deceased mentioned his name and the names of Kapnoor's followers in the death note and why they were demanding money from from Panchal.

Meanwhile, contractors association state unit president Jagannath Shegji said the deceased was not a member of the association.

Speaking to TNIE, Shegji said the family members of Panchal should show documents to prove his membership as well as alleged harassment by Raju Kapnoor or anybody, an the association will fight for him.

BJP members stage a protest against minister Priyanka Kharge in Mandya on Thurday

BJP says Priyank's name mentioned in death note, minister says it's baseless

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE political slugfest over contractor Sachin Panchala's death by suicide continued on Thursday with the BJP mounting pressure on Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and the Congress leadership to drop RDPR Minister Priyank Kharge from the cabinet and hand over the case to the CBI. The minister rubbished the BJP's allegations.

"The minister's name was mentioned in the death note as his close aide is the key accused. But since he is the son of the AICC president, Siddaramaiah is trembling to get his (Priyank's) resignation," Leader of the Opposition in the Assembly R Ashoka told media persons in Bengaluru. He said the BJP will hold a massive protest rally in Kalaburagi on Saturday demanding Priyank's resignation.

Leader of Opposition in the Legislative Council Chalavadi Narayanswamy said Kharge's name is mentioned in the death note, and they would appeal to the CM, senior Congress leader Rahul Gandhi and AICC president Mallikarjuna Kharge to remove him from the ministry. Senior Congress leaders in the state are getting calls from New Delhi asking them to defend Priyank.

Narayanswamy said those responsible for Sachin's death must be exposed, but the Siddaramaiah government is protecting them. The BJP has sent copies of the death note to senior Congress leaders, including Rahul Gandhi, demanding action against Priyank.

Meanwhile, Priyank hit back at BJP leaders, accusing them of making baseless allegations to impress their party central leaders and tarnish Mallikarjuna Kharge's name.

"The BJP is intellectually bankrupt, the LoP in Council Chalavadi Narayanaswamy has been attacking Priyank to secure his position," alleged former MLC and KPCC media division chairman Ramesh Babu.

He said BJP leaders are walking around with their heads down after getting court orders in many sex scandals and several others are out on bail on serious charges of caste abuse. Narayanswamy, who does not have the moral strength to ask for the resignation of such BJP leaders, is now preaching to the Congress, Babu said.

Rao committee will do a reality check on backwardness of taluks

RAMAKRISHNA BADSESHI @ Kalaburagi

THE High Power Committee for Redressal of Regional Imbalance, which was set up by the Siddaramaiah government on March 16, 2024, under the chairmanship of renowned economist Prof M Govind Rao, started functioning from September because of many reasons, including the Lok Sabha elections. Though CM Siddaramaiah has spoken on several occasion on the constitution of the committee, there was no clear picture on who Prof Govind Rao is, and who are the members of the committee and how it functions.

Prof Govind Rao, younger brother of space scientist UR Rao, and Dr R Vishal, senior IAS officer and member secretary of the committee, spoke to The New Indian Express about the committee and its functioning, and said it is a follow-up to the Dr DM Nanjundappa Committee.

The Prof Govind Rao Committee has been given the brief to assess the development which has taken place following implementation of the Dr Nanjundappa Committee, which had submitted its report in 2002, and implementation of the recommendations began in 2007.

The Nanjundappa report had highlighted the backwardness of various taluks in the State. Of 175 taluks in 2001, the report had identified 35 taluks as backward, 40 taluks as more backward and 39 taluks as most backward. Of the 39 most backward taluks, 21 were in Kalaburagi division, 5 in Belagavi division, 11 in Bengaluru division and two in Mysuru division. Of 40 'more backward' taluks, 5 were in Kalaburagi division, 12 in Belagavi division, 13 in Bengaluru division and 10 in Mysuru division. Of the 40 'most backward' taluks, two were in Kalaburagi division, 14 in Belagavi division, 9 in Bengaluru division and 10 in Mysuru division.

The Nanjundappa Committee had recommended a Special Development Plan to provide separate grants for implementation of the recommendations and to see that these backward taluks should become progressive on par with other developed taluks. It is said that at the time of constituting the Nanjundappa Committee, there were 176 taluks, while the number has increased to 236.

Seventeen years after implementation of the report, the Prof. Govind Rao Committee has been entrusted with the task of ascertaining how many of these 236 taluks are are backward, more backward and most backward as on date.

> The committee has written to the Department of Statistics to provide details on development in each taluk of the State. It has also sent questionnaires to NGOs, universities and colleges, industrialists, chief secretary and secretaries, on whether development took place or not
> Prof Govind Rao

> Questions have been asked on these institutions, officers and public representatives to send answers at the earliest. Details will be received by the Department of Statistics and public representatives. A draft will be prepared on further steps to be taken by the Rao Committee
>

QUESTIONNAIRE DATA

Prof. Rao said the committee has written to the Department of Statistics to provide details on development in each taluk of the State. It has also sent questionnaires to NGOs, universities and colleges in the state, business organisations and industrialists, chief secretary, additional chief secretaries, principal secretaries and secretaries to the government of different departments, elected and official functionaries at the district and taluk levels, asking relevant questions on whether development has taken place or not.

Various Regional Development Boards, including Kalyana Karnataka Region Development Board, Malnad Development Board and Bayaluseeme Development Board have come into existence after the Nanjundappa Committee recommendations were implemented.

Vishal says questions have been asked on these institutions, officers and public representatives to send answers at the earliest. Details will be received by the Department of Statistics, and above mentioned institutions and public representatives would be compiled and a draft prepared on further steps to be taken by the Rao Committee.

Rao said all members of the committee would visit the divisional headquarters and hold meetings with officers, public representatives and different organisations to elicit their opinion. The committee will prepare its report on 35 different indicators and submit its report in September. Efforts would be made not to seek extension of its tenure, Rao said.

The other members of the committee are Vasudev Sedam of Kalaburagi, Prof Bagalkoti of Karnataka University, Dharwad, and MS Suryanarayana. The committee has already held two meetings and will soon take decisions after visiting different places to personally verify development or backwardness.

ON ADVISORY COUNCIL

Prof Rao has a number of advisory roles. He is member of the Economic Advisory Council to the Prime Minister, with the rank of Minister of State. He is member of the Financial Sector Legislative Reforms Commission and High Level Expert Committee on Universalising Healthcare; member of a High-Level Expert Committee on 'Efficient management of public expenditure' and member, advisory group of eminent persons to advise the Finance Minister on G-20 matters.

Process to appoint new state BJP chief has started: Joshi

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mangaluru

STATING that the appointment of B Y Vijayendra as state BJP president was "inevitable" then, Union Minister for Consumer Affairs, Food and Public Distribution Pralhad Joshi on Thursday said the process of the election to the party's top post in the state has already begun. Talking to reporters, Joshi said the process of election from the booth president to national president has begun in the country and it normally takes place once the party's membership drive is complete.

Stating that the booth-level election is already complete and the mandal-level election is in process, Joshi said the district-, state- and national-level elections will be held subsequently.

Asked whether the election will also take place for the party's state president post as Vijayendra was appointed just over a year ago, Joshi said his appointment was "inevitable" then and now elections will be held across the country.

However, he said the chances of Vijayendra returning as BJP state president can't be ruled out.

Joshi termed the Union cabinet extending subsidy on diammonium phosphate (DAP), continuing the Pradhan Mantri Fasal Bima Yojana and restructuring weather-based crop insurance scheme till 2025-26 as a New Year gift to the farmers of the country.

Hubballi & Dharwad to have separate Palikes

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE state cabinet on Thursday approved carving out the existing Hubballi-Dharwad Mahanagara Palike to form the Dharwad Mahanagara Palike.

Speaking to reporters after the cabinet meeting, Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister HK Patil said Dharwad has five universities and is a cultural centre.

"This place has given three Jnanapeeta awardees. There was a demand for a separate Mahanagara Palike," Patil said. He, however, said till the existing term of the HDMC, which has completed has completed over two years of its five-year term, the system will continue.

Meanwhile, the government has decided to hold a cabinet meeting in Chamarajanagara on February 23. Recently, the government had held a cabinet meeting in Kalaburagi.

The state government has also decided to convert funds allotted for new goshalas to develop and strengthen the existing goshalas. "We are not closing down any goshala. In 2022-23, 35 new goshalas were announced. But only one started, but no cattle were brought to it. Hence, we decided to utilise this fund for existing goshalas," he said.

Maternal deaths: Ashoka demands Rao's resignation, judicial probe

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

LEADER of Opposition in the Legislative Assembly R Ashoka on Thursday demanded that Dinesh Gundu Rao resign as health minister and a judicial probe be ordered into the increasing number of maternal deaths in the state.

"Congress leaders speak about women's empowerment and their government gives Rs 2,000 to them under the Gruha Lakshmi guarantee scheme. They should guarantee the survival of pregnant women first," he told reporters here.

As many as 736 maternal deaths have been reported in the state. The state government should be held responsible for these deaths, he said.

Ashoka took strong exception to senior Congress ministers not visiting hospitals where maternal deaths were reported. Instead of visiting the hospitals and ensuring proper supply of medicines, they were busy attending rallies, he alleged.

Leader of Opposition at Assembly R Ashoka addresses the media at the BJP office in Bengaluru on Thursday

During the winter session, Gundu Rao said all measures had been taken to prevent maternal deaths. Though the government stated that an audit of maternal deaths will be conducted, it is yet to bring out a report, Ashoka said.

He alleged that the government did not give convincing replies to Opposition parties' queries on the reasons for maternal deaths during the winter session. "Intravenous (IV) fluids and other medicines are supplied by the state government and the Centre has no role in it. The state government should have tested the fluids and medicines as no such deaths have been reported in other states. The state government itself has admitted that 462 medicines supplied to its hospitals are of substandard quality. However, the same medicines are being supplied to government hospitals," he said.

He said that BJP's fight against the state government over this and other issues will not stop.

'Give more power to Lokayukta'

THERE is a need to strengthen the Lokayukta. Presently, the Lokayukta police do not directly come under the Lokayukta. They come under the state government. "Everyone thinks Lokayukta has powers. But Lokayukta only conducts investigations and recommends to the state government for action. Again, the recommendations go to the cabinet for approval. The cabinet has the discretionary power to accept or reject the recommendations. There is a need to empower the Lokayukta to dismiss or suspend officials involved in corruption cases" a retired official from the Lokayukta told TNIE.

Lokayukta sources said to safeguard the interests of some influential elected representatives and officials, the institution is not being strengthened. "This holds good for all political parties that come to power," the sources added.

Soon, govt to issue smart cards for Shakti scheme

AKNISREE KARTHIK @Bengaluru

TO streamline the Shakti scheme, the state government will issue smart cards to beneficiaries soon. As of now, as the scheme is applicable only for residents of Karnataka, women need to produce identity cards with their local addresses and after verification, conductors issue zero tickets. The smart cards with photo will be issued after the beneficiaries submit their local domicile proof.

One of the major complaints by conductors was that they had to verify ID proofs of every women passenger before issuing zero tickets under the Shakti scheme, which is time consuming. Also, there are incidents of clashes between women passengers and conductors over ID cards and there are instances where women, who are not residents of Karnataka, are also trying to avail the free scheme, said sources from the bus corporation.

In peak hours, as conductors have to issue tickets to all passengers before the bus enters the next stage (after which the tariffs change), they have to halt the vehicle for a few minutes and then proceed resulting in delays. As the verification of the local domicile will be done before issuing the cards, this will make conductors' work easier and also give a clear picture on the total beneficiaries, the sources said.

Since June 11, 2023, when the Shakti scheme was launched, till December last year, a whopping 356 crore women have travelled under the scheme. The zero-ticket value of passengers stood at Rs 8,598 crore.

Speaking to TNIE, Transport Minister Ramalinga Reddy said, "The Shakti scheme has received overwhelming response from women. With this scheme, not only women ridership, but the overall ridership in all four bus corporations--the Karnataka State Road Transport Corporation (KSRTC), Kalyana Karnataka Road Transport Corporation (KKRTC), North West Karnataka Road Transport Corporation (NWKRTC) and Bengaluru Metropolitan Transport Corporation (BMTC) -- has gone up."

Currently women have to show ID proof before conductors issue zero tickets. With the smart card, there is no need to verify each and every identity proof, Reddy said adding that the government will soon start issuing the cards.

ILLEGAL DUMPING OF WASTE

NGT pulls up Kerala for failing to take action

Credence Hospital argues that it had handed over bio-medical waste to IMAGE

SV KRISHNA CHAITANYA @Chennai

THE southern bench of the National Green Tribunal (NGT) on Thursday questioned the Kerala government as to whether it's colluding with the alleged violator in the illegal dumping of biomedical waste in Tamil Nadu and directed the secretary of Kerala's environment department to submit a detailed report on the issue.

The tribunal also directed Tamil Nadu to enhance monitoring along the border by setting up a dedicated task force to track vehicular movement.

Criticising the Kerala authorities for their failure to take decisive action, the tribunal flagged inaction and lack of accountability in addressing this serious environmental and public health issue.

The bench, comprising Justice Pushpa Sathyanarayana and expert member Satyagopal Korlapati, expressed displeasure with the report submitted by Kerala, which did not specify the quantity of waste removed from the border villages in Tamil Nadu's Tirunelveli district.

Kerala State Pollution Control Board (KSPCB) informed the tribunal that it had issued a show-cause notice on December 19, 2024, to the Regional Cancer Centre, Credence Multispecialty Family Hospital, and Leela Kovalam resort. However, apart from Credence, none of the entities responded, and the KSPCB failed to take any further action.

The counsel of Credence Hospital, in its defence, stated that it had handed over its biomedical waste to IMAGE (Indian Medical Association Goes Eco-friendly), the only agency authorized to handle such waste in Kerala. The hospital argued that it could not be held liable for any illegal dumping.

The tribunal expressed surprise and concern that IMAGE, despite being an alleged violator, had participated in a high-level meeting chaired by the Kerala Chief Secretary on December 19. The bench questioned whether the state government was colluding with IMAGE and criticised the authorities for not issuing a show-cause notice to IMAGE despite its alleged involvement in the violations. It suggested that Kerala consider entering into agreements with authorised waste management agencies in Tamil Nadu and Karnataka, rather than relying solely on a single agency, to ensure better accountability.

Peeping tom at TG college? Suspects' phones sent for analysis

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Hyderabad

CYBERABAD police on Thursday said that 11 phones of five persons — who are suspected to have secretly recorded videos of girl students using the bathrooms in the hostels of CMR Engineering College, Medchal — have been for forensic analysis after no clips were found on the devices.

The cops, acting on allegations by the students, carried out a preliminary probe to verify if any such video were on the devices belonging to the suspects. Medchal ACB B Srinivas Reddy told TNIE: "Although no obscene videos were found, we wanted to make sure that the suspects did not delete them and so sent the phones to the lab for analysis."

On Wednesday and Thursday, the college students staged a protest against the college management and hostel warden Preethi. They accused the mess staff of secretly recording their videos and peeping into bathrooms. After questioning the five suspects and examining their phones on Wednesday night, police released them. However, their fingerprints were collected for verification.

Earlier, based on a complaint, police registered a case under Sections 77 (watching or capturing images of a woman engaged in a private act) and 125 (endangering personal safety or life) of the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita (BNS).

Meanwhile, a student pointed out that the management has provided accommodation to the mess staff at the back of the hostel, creating opportunities for them to access the girls' bathrooms. A few students alleged that some persons had been peeping into bathrooms and recording videos.

The ACP said that the suspects' accommodation was located close to the bathrooms, giving them access to those areas after completing their daily duties. Srinivas Reddy said that upon receiving information, Medchal Inspector A Satyanarayana and other cops visited the college.

INDIAN EXPRESS IS NOT AN INDUSTRY. IT IS A MISSION.

DATA CENTRE GROWTH A WELCOME BOOST TO INDIAN IT INDUSTRY

A clutch of studies are predicting that India will double its data centre capacity over the next two years, making it well-placed to become a global hub for AI innovation and cloud storage. Crisil Ratings has said India's capacity would double to 2.0-2.3 gigawatts by 2026-27 on the back of sharp growth in generative artificial intelligence, which requires a lot of processing power. Icra has predicted the capacity would double by 2025-26, with nearly ₹55,000-crore investments in the pipeline. India currently has about 150 data centres led by big tech companies such as Amazon Web Services, Microsoft Azure and Google. In recent years, computing and data storage demand has been driven by businesses rapidly shifting to digital platforms, a trend exacerbated by the Covid pandemic. Rising use of social media, digital payment and OTT streaming have also boosted the demand manifold.

Official policy is lending a hand, too. For instance, the Reserve Bank has decreed that all data related to monetary transactions be stored in India. Similarly, market watchdog Sebi has mandated that all entities under its purview, including the stock exchanges and mutual funds, locally park their data. Another incentive for investment here is that India offers one of the lowest rates for real estate and skilled manpower. Crisil's estimates that India's cost of ₹45 crore for developing 1 megawatt of data capacity is the cheapest in the world, comparable to China at ₹56 crore, and Japan and the US at ₹95 crore.

This discussion has to be viewed through two prisms. First, the IT and business process management sector in the country contributes a substantial 8 percent of GDP and employs nearly 7 million skilled people. Second, the industry's skew is entirely towards exports—with offshore orders earning $200 billion and domestic deals accounting for just $50 billion. The growth of data centres catering to local clients may help correct this skew. Overdependence on foreign markets, especially in turbulent times, is risky. The incoming Donald Trump administration is working overtime to reverse immigration flow into the US. The US's H1-B work visas offer Indians a quota of 65,000 jobs a year. The scheme, with Trump's so-called MAGA supporters baying for its reversal, is now under a cloud. Data centres could thus be a good cushion for such future shocks.

WAYANAD SURVIVORS' REHAB MUST BE FAIR

THE Wayanad landslide survivors' long wait for again having a home of their own seems to be nearing an end with the Kerala government announcing a master plan for their rehabilitation. The ₹750-crore plan aims to construct single-storey, 1,000-sq-ft houses in two townships that will also have parks, markets, healthcare centres, schools and public sanitation facilities. Apart from using state funds, the government also plans to invite private sponsorships for the project.

Last July, the towns of Mundakkai and Chooralmala in Wayanad district were destroyed by the deadliest landslide ever in Kerala. It killed more than 300 people and destroyed numerous houses, rendering their inhabitants homeless. Since that fateful day, most survivors have been living in rented houses, while a few others are staying with their relatives. The delay in finding them new homes was primarily because the owners of the estate earmarked by the government for rehabilitating the survivors went to court against the move. Last week, the Kerala High Court upheld the government's decision to acquire a portion of the lands that Harrisons Malayalam and Elstone Tea Estates own. The court held that the marked areas can be acquired under the Land Acquisition Act if fair compensation is paid. At about the same time, almost five months after a central inter-ministerial team visited Wayanad, the Union government classified it as a disaster of 'severe nature', which allowed access to some central funds.

It is indeed welcome that the state government has included livelihood in the rehabilitation project. Now its promise of providing ₹15 lakh to the families that do not want to live in the townships must also be provided without delay. For all this, it's important for the state government to release an accurate final list of the region's disaster-affected families. Fairness must be maintained at all steps along the way—the sense of impartiality in such processes goes a long way in healing the trauma of loss. The government has also promised that the townships would be completed in 15 months. That promise, too, must be kept at all costs, as these houses are the last hope of those who have lost their dear ones and everything they owned in that one tragic night.

QUICK TAKE

UNDER PUBLIC GLARE

THE Madras High Court's order that the assets and liabilities of public servants cannot be shielded from disclosure under Section 8 of the Right to Information Act is welcome. Justice C V Karthikeyan held that while the service registers of public servants may contain some personal information, the authorities cannot refuse to divulge all of it. "Once an individual accepts to join public service, he must accept that he... cannot avoid the general public from seeking details at least so far as their service is concerned," said the court. Such a reading is heartening at a time the RTI Act has been weakened to the point of being rendered toothless.

As India champions the cause of the Global South, it must address its domestic vulnerabilities. International leadership requires a balance between ambition and resilience

COHESION AT HOME MUST WHILE BACKING AN EQUITABLE WORLD

MANISH TEWARI

Lawyer, third-term MP, and former Union information & broadcasting minister

As a new year begins, India finds itself at an inflection point in international relations that are being moulded by significant geopolitical changes, economic uncertainties and rapid technological advancements.

As the world's largest democracy and the fifth-largest economy, India still holds the potential to shape the institutions of global governance while addressing domestic challenges. To fulfil this promise, the nation must skilfully manage the complexities of geopolitics, economic diplomacy, multilateral leadership and regional stability—all while striving to foster a stable and inclusive global order.

Relationships with global powers: In a quasi-multipolar world dominated by countries like the US, China and Russia, our foreign policy once again seeks to focus on maintaining strategic autonomy—a new nom de guerre for non-alignment—while fostering meaningful ties with them. India's partnership with the US has somewhat cooled due to legal proceedings in US courts, as manifested by the recent attack by the BJP on the US state department, notwithstanding the shared interests, particularly in promoting a free and open Indo-Pacific to surmount the China challenge.

The Indo-US relationship has become an oxymoron. While initiatives like the Quad and on emerging technologies underscore collaboration, allegations linking Indian officials to controversies and differing views on Russia and Iran create brittleness.

With Donald Trump's re-election, potential shifts in trade policies, along with unresolved issues like visa restrictions and market access for Indian IT firms, could introduce renewed uncertainties.

With China, post-Galwan tensions notwithstanding, the opaque disengagement, unresolved border disputes and a stark trade imbalance persist. Heavy reliance on Chinese electronics and pharmaceuticals imports complicates efforts to reduce dependence. Beijing's expanding Belt and Road Initiative and a trade deficit exceeding $85 billion in 2023-24 challenge India's regional ambitions, ensuring the China+1 strategy of global conglomerates means investment flows into India, and not to other Asian destinations.

The bond with Russia, underpinned by discounted oil over the past 34 months, endures Russia's compulsions in cosying up to China and the emerging nuclear axis from East to West Asia; it will remain India's biggest security dilemma in the decade ahead.

Expanding trade & investment horizons: Economic engagements in 2025 must leverage India's market and technological potential to attract investments. While the potential is immense, several hurdles persist. As a large economy, India should remain a destination for foreign investors, an attraction that seems to be waning.

SOURAV ROY

Trade agreements with nations like Australia and the UAE may reflect ongoing efforts to integrate into global value chains. However, paradigms such as UPI could be promoted as a secure platform for global financial transactions.

The transition to a green economy cannot go hand in hand with questioning the established consensus to restrict global warming to 1.5°C above pre-industrial levels.

Challenges, however, cloud the horizon as private investment remains sluggish, with net foreign direct investment hitting a 16-year low of $10.58 billion in 2023-24. Bureaucratic hurdles, high tariffs and a cautious approach to trade liberalisation evident in India's withdrawal from the Regional Comprehensive Economic Partnership, have slowed progress. Stalled negotiations on free-trade agreements with the UK and EU add to these concerns.

While production-linked incentive schemes may have yielded some dividend, their inconsistent success raises profound concerns about the broader trajectory. Addressing these challenges will be essential to sustaining growth and cementing our position as a global economic powerhouse.

Leading on the global stage: The ambition to emerge as a global leader remains rooted in the push for reforms in multilateral institutions and advocacy for the Global South. As a non-permanent UN Security Council member, India may have actively contributed to counterterrorism efforts and climate action; however, in the past 10 years, there has been no progress on Security Council reforms, thereby making the desire for a seat on the high table a chimera.

In institutions like the IMF and World Bank, India champions greater representation for developing nations, emphasising increased funding for climate adaptation and disaster resilience to ensure equitable development. Initiatives such as the International Solar Alliance and the Coalition for Disaster Resilient Infrastructure underscore India's role in sustainable development. However, partial convergence with the Global North on technology and geopolitical issues complicates its role as a voice for a unified Global South.

Engagement with BRICS and the Shanghai Cooperation Organisation underline the desire to make South-South cooperation its leitmotif. The inclusion of nations like Saudi Arabia and Iran in BRICS reflects the inherent contradiction in managing an acronym coined by the consulting firm Goldman Sachs back in 2001. Balancing these dynamics while addressing critiques of perceived inconsistencies will be essential for retaining its position as a voice of the Global South.

Navigating regional challenges: The efforts to ensure regional stability face hurdles amid strained relations with our neighbours. In Bangladesh, the ouster of Sheikh Hasina has intensified anti-India rhetoric and stalled joint projects, including cross-border rail and energy initiatives.

Meanwhile, political instability in Nepal and a pro-China government in the Maldives add complexity to the neighbourhood-first diplomacy. Bangladesh's nascent overtures towards China and Pakistan signal a significant shift in attempting to reduce reducing India's influence. Similarly, Chinese-backed infrastructure projects in Nepal have challenged India's traditional dominance there. With Pakistan, the relationship remains frozen in mutual toxicity.

Building a stable and inclusive global order: India's policy in the next 25 years should strike a balance between ambition and resilience. By advocating for reforms in multilateral institutions, championing the Global South and leveraging its economic strengths while ensuring that human developmental challenges at home are successfully surmounted.

A durable internal social cohesion is a sine qua non for strengthening India's advocacy for an equitable world order.

FERTILITY DECLINE: A SUCCESS STORY OR CAUSE FOR CONCERN?

BALHASAN ALI
Researcher (demography and labour), Institute of Economic Growth

RACHNA SINGH
PhD scholar, Banaras Hindu University

INDIA'S declining fertility rates, once hailed as a success of family planning policies and socio-economic progress, are now the subject of renewed debate. Recent statements by the CMs of Andhra Pradesh and Tamil Nadu and the RSS chief underscore a pressing issue: the implications of India's declining fertility for economic growth and sustainability.

Despite achieving replacement-level fertility, India now faces the challenge of below-replacement fertility, which presents new socio-economic hurdles.

India's total fertility rate (TFR) fell to 2.0 in 2019-21, below the replacement threshold of 2.1. Urban areas report a TFR of 1.6, while rural areas remain at 2.1, with only five states—UP (2.3), Bihar (3.0), Jharkhand (2.3), Meghalaya (2.9) and Manipur (2.2)—exceeding this level. Equally important is the net reproduction rate (NRR), which for India is below 1. It suggests the total population will gradually decline as there aren't enough daughters being born to replace the current generation. Can India capitalise on this change for sustainable development, or does it signal an impending crisis?

India has long been seen as poised to benefit from a demographic dividend—a youthful working-age population that could drive economic growth. However, this is contingent on policies that translate a large working-age population into actual economic participation. India's persistently low labour force participation rates pose a significant challenge. So, can India fully harness its demographic dividend when a substantial portion of its population remains economically inactive or underemployed?

The window of demographic opportunity is closing in many southern states. While Kerala, Tamil Nadu and Andhra Pradesh had the longest demographic dividend periods, these are nearing their end. In contrast, northern states such as Bihar, Uttar Pradesh and Jharkhand, which are still experiencing higher fertility rates, are now positioned to benefit. However, this advantage will only materialise if investments are made in healthcare, education and job creation.

Fertility decline, while largely seen as a success, has gendered and medical implications. While it is attributed to educational and health advances, it is essential to recognise fertility choices are not always voluntary. Rising infertility among women, coupled with socio-economic pressures, may lead to unintended consequences that could strain India's demographic trajectory.

For example, the declining fertility rates in South India may also be driven by rising infertility rates. Research by S Kundu, B Ali and P Dhillon (2023) published in PLOS One reveals the regon has higher rates of secondary infertility (states with elevated infertility also showing lower fertility rates).

PTI

> Though fertility decline is largely seen as a success in our overpopulated nation, there would be far-reaching implications if the decline continues. The decline in South India may partly be due to rising infertility rates. This, coupled with economic insecurities and high cost of healthcare and education, are driving couples to limit family size

Other factors such as rising youth unemployment, economic insecurities, and the high costs of healthcare and education are driving couples to limit family size. This trend, coupled with a preference for sons, negatively impacts the NRR and exacerbates gender imbalances.

Globally, the perils of sustained low fertility are evident. Countries that have experienced significant fertility decline, such as China, Japan and several European nations, offer cautionary tales. Despite strong government policies, they are now grappling with aging populations and the resulting economic stagnation. China's infamous one-child policy, once a model for population control, has left the nation struggling to reverse its demographic decline. Despite policy reversals, incentives and social protection nets, fertility rates remain low.

India, with its democratic framework and limited social protections, is even less equipped to address these challenges. India risks facing similar pitfalls without the safety nets that richer nations possess.

To improve fertility decisions in India, providing uniform access to quality education across all segments of society could be a transformative solution. The layered nature of India's education system presents a significant challenge, but addressing this gap may positively influence family planning choices. In parallel, migration offers a powerful tool to address socio-economic challenges, as exemplified by Delhi. Despite its low fertility rate, Delhi has maintained a prolonged demographic dividend through migration, which has extended its working-age population and supported sustained economic growth.

Southern states, facing similar fertility declines, could adopt a migration-based strategy to attract young workers from other regions, while accounting for regional disparities. Additionally, improving healthcare access to address infertility could restore fertility rates.

Lastly, fostering demographic education is pivotal for addressing the complex sustainability challenges India faces. Despite its critical importance, formal training in demography remains scarce. Expanding these educational initiatives and integrating demography into broader academic disciplines could significantly deepen societal understanding of population dynamics. Just as premier institutions like IITs offer humanities courses to foster interdisciplinary perspectives, a similar approach to demography—across economics, sociology, and public policy—would prepare future generations to engage with the intricacies of demographic shifts.

Sensitising society to the importance of demographic dynamics and related indicators, grounded in facts and reality is essential for fostering long-term socio-economic stability and demographic resilience.

Muizzu minister-EAM meet today

Jaishankar and his Maldives counterpart to give new direction to eco, maritime cooperation

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

INDIA and the Maldives are set to further strengthen their ties as New Delhi hosts the Foreign Minister of the island country, Abdulla Khaleel, for a three-day visit.

The Maldives-India relations were on a downward spiral after President Mohamed Muizzu came to power last April and demanded New Delhi replace 80 defence personnel it had stationed on the Maldives as part of his "India out" campaign.

But the relationship has been on the mend following intense diplomatic engagements from last October.

During his three-day official visit to India from January 2 to January 4, Khaleel is scheduled to meet with External Affairs minister S Jaishankar on Friday. The two leaders expected to review the bilateral ties and give a new direction to their economic, maritime and people to people cooperation.

Khaleel, the first foreign dignitary to visit India in 2025 was appointed as the Maldives Foreign Affairs minister on September 30 last year. Before this role, he served as the island nation's Health Minister.

Khaleel has previously acknowledged India's "significant contribution" to his nation's swift recovery from the Covid-19 pandemic, which is vital to the Maldives' tourism-dependent economy. In October, Khaleel also accompanied President Muizzu on a five-day State visit to India.

He described the visit as one marked by "insightful discussions" and strengthened bilateral ties, further deepening the enduring partnership between the Maldives and India.

"Our commitment to further enhance the Maldives-India partnership remains unwavering, and I look forward to our promising future collaborations for the mutual benefit of our two nations and people," Khaleel posted on social media platform X after the visit.

Both foreign ministers are expected to review the steps taken under their 'Vision for Comprehensive Economic and Maritime Security Partnership' firmed up during Muizzu's visit.

India extended emergency financial support to the Maldives last September by subscribing to its $50 million treasury bill to bring much-needed relief to the cash-strapped island nation. Since then, India has been liberal with its economic support with the neighbours across the Indian Ocean which had its economy in the doldrums after the Covid pandemic.

The help included enabling the Maldives to access up to $400 million under the US Dollar/Euro Swap Window and ₹30 billion under the Indian Rupee (INR) Swap Window — an arrangement that will remain in effect till June 2027.

"We will work together for stability and progress in the Indian Ocean region," PM Narendra Modi had said after the meeting with Muizzu.

Army hunts for ammunition to protect air defence assets

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

AIMING to bolster security of the Indian Army's ground-based Air Defence assets against drones, the Indian Army Air Defence branch has released a Request for Information (RFI) to identify prospective vendors (DPSUs/ Private Vendors) to undertake manufacturing of 23mm Anti-Drone Ammunition under Make in India.

The RFI, a formal process under which potential suppliers or information is sought about a product or service, requested interested companies/ firms/ vendors (both public and private) for undertaking manufacturing of 23mm Anti Drone Ammunition in India.

"The 23mm Anti Drone ammunition is intended to be used with the existing Zu 23mm & Schilka Weapon System for destruction of drones.

"Apart from the information, the vendors are requested to forward technical details/ product brochures/ literature etc, pertaining to the ammunition intended to be procured," the RFI read.

Talking about the suitability of the ammunition, the RFI said, "These anti-aircraft guns use 23mm Armour Piercing Incendiary Tracer (APIT) and High Explosive Incendiary Tracer (HEIT) ammunition."

"The hit probability of both the ammunition are low as the guns are manually controlled and the ammunition gets activated on impact i.e on direct hit. Thus, in order to increase the hit probability there is a requirement of 23mm Anti Drone Ammunition."

The initiation of the process has been attributed to the lessons drawn from "recent conflicts" which "have demonstrated effective employment of drones (to include Commercially Off the Shelf (COTS) Unmanned Aerial Systems (UAS & UCAVs) and loitering munitions for suppression of enemy air defence and precision strike against ground-based Army Air Defence platform."

Drones, especially the COTS variety have low radars cross section (RCS), small size, higher survivability & comparatively lower costs and countering them with the current gun ammunition is a challenge and thus there is a need for anti-drone ammunition which can be fired from existing Zu 23mm and Schilka Weapon System.

Zu 23mm and Schilka Weapon system currently in-service with Army Air Defence are high rate of fire anti-aircraft systems which are employed for providing point Air Defence to critical vulnerable areas.

Why the need arose?

1. 23mm Anti Drone ammo intended to be used with existing Zu 23mm & Schilka Weapon System
2. These guns use 23mm Armour Piercing Incendiary Tracer and High Explosive Incendiary Tracer ammunition
3. Hit probability of both the ammunition are low as the guns are manually controlled and the ammo is activated on impact
4. In order to increase hit probability, 23mm Anti Drone Ammunition are required

2 sites at Rashtriya Smriti Sthal for Singh memorial proposed to family

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

THE Centre has formally started the process to allot land for the memorial of former Prime Minister Manmohan Singh on the campus of Rashtriya Smriti Sthal, the area along the Yamuna bank earmarked for the last rites and memorials of presidents, vice-presidents and prime ministers.

On Thursday, the Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs (MoHUA) suggested two possible sites in the complex near Rajghat to erect the commemorative structure for Singh's family to choose.

Officials said: "His family was informed about the choices available. After the site visit, the family will convey the decision to the ministry. Thereafter, the allotment will be made to the trust. It may take a week to complete the process."

The trust will be set up for the construction and maintenance of the memorial. "It is the prerogative of the former PM's family to work out the structure. They will decide the number and name of the trustees," added the officials.

Singh passed away on December 26 at the age of 92. His funeral took place three days later at Nigam Bodh Ghat in the national capital.

The Government received a request from Congress President Mallikarjun Kharge to allocate space for the memorial. Thereafter, the Cabinet decided to allocate land for the same.

In 2000, the Government resolved not to allow separate memorials for dignitaries near Rajghat, given the scarcity of space. Over 240 acres of prime land in the capital have been taken over to build samadhis of national leaders such as Mahatma Gandhi, Jawaharlal Nehru, Indira Gandhi, Chaudhary Charan Singh, Zail Singh and Rajiv Gandhi.

Land for the common memorial site, Rashtriya Smriti Sthal, flanked by the Ring Road and Yamuna, was assigned 13 years later.

1/3rd of insurance claims filed in '24 still unpaid

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

NEARLY a third of all insurance claims registered and outstanding in FY2024 remain unpaid, data of Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority of India (IRDAI) reveals. A related survey also shows that despite the regulator's changes to improve service standards, policy owners still face myriad problems.

The insurance regulator's report reveals that insurers registered over 3 crore claims during the year for ₹1.1 lakh crore, in addition to the 17.9 lakh claims for ₹6,290 crore outstanding from earlier years.

Of these claims, insurers paid nearly 2.7 crore claims, amounting to ₹83,493 crore. This represents 82% of the reported claims by volume and 71.3% by value. Of the claims that were not paid, ₹15,100 crore worth were "disallowed according to terms and conditions of the policy contract".

The IRDAI sought to bring in changes to improve insurance services in June 2024 after LocalCircles, a community social media submitted a report highlighting the slow health insurance claim processing.

However, LocalCircles says, going by complaints and other social media and media reports, they are still facing problems.

Only 8% say claims processed instantly
Over 3 crore claims registered in 2024 for ₹1.1 lakh crore
17.9 lakh claims for ₹6,290 crore outstanding from earlier years
82% of reported insurance claims resolved
71.3% of value disbursed
INSURANCE COMPANIES PAID NEARLY 2.7 CRORE CLAIMS WORTH ₹83,493 CRORE
₹15,100 CRORE WORTH OF CLAIMS "DISALLOWED AS PER TO TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF THE POLICY CONTRACT"

LocalCircles conducted a nationwide survey to find out the various problems they have faced despite IRDAI's directives. The survey received over 1,00,000 responses from health insurance policy owners located in 327 districts of India.

Lack of transparency

Some health insurance companies are not transparent in their operations such that they don't specify upfront which health issues are covered and excluded. Survey respondents were asked if IRDAI mandate 100% web-based processing of claims with policy holders kept informed at every step?"

Around 83% stated "yes, this is not happening and is a must"; 9% of respondents stated "yes, this is already happening and functional" and 8% of respondents did not give a clear answer.

Delay benefits insurers

Asked if the long time taken to process claims tends to benefit insurance companies as policy holders get tired of waiting and settle for approval of lower amounts (leading to higher out of pocket payment), 47% of respondents stated "yes, happened with me or my family too"; 34% of respondents stated "didn't happen with us but has happened with many in our close network"; 7% of respondents said "don't believe this scenario is common" and 12% of respondents did not give a clear answer.

Conditional settlements

Getting health insurance claims can sometimes be difficult if the insurance company decides that those with certain health conditions like diabetes, will not be eligible for it or will be allowed a lower settlement.

20% of respondents stated the "claim was rejected with invalid reasons"; 16% of respondents stated the "claim was rejected with valid reasons"; 33% of respondents stated the "insurance claim was only partially approved and with invalid reasons."

'Will implement panel's reco on NEET-UG'

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY @ New Delhi

THE Centre on Thursday told the Supreme Court that it would implement all the corrective measures suggested by its seven-member expert panel on exam reforms after reviewing the National Testing Agency's functioning in holding NEET-UG last year.

Solicitor General Tushar Mehta, appearing for the Centre, apprised a bench comprising justices PS Narasimha and Manoj Misra that the Centre-appointed committee has filed its report. "We are going to implement all the recommendations and it (matter) can be listed after six months," the law officer said. The bench, after noting the submissions of the Centre, adjourned the case for three months, saying that it will take up the matter for next hearing in April.

The top court on August 2 last year refused to annul the controversy-ridden NEET-UG 2024, saying there was no sufficient material on record at present to indicate a systemic leak or malpractice compromising the integrity of the examination.

The court had also expanded the remit of the seven-member expert panel, headed by former Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) chief K Radhakrishnan, to review the functioning of the NTA and recommend exam reforms to make the NEET-UG (National Eligibility cum Entrance Test Undergraduate) transparent and free from malpractices.

The entire report has not been placed on the records as it also contained some details regarding issues like printing of questions. On October 21 last year, the top court had extended the time granted to the Centre-appointed seven-member expert panel to file its report on exam reforms.

While expanding the scope of the expert panel, the top court had flagged multiple lapses on the part of NTA like the security breach at an examination centre in Jharkhand's Hazaribagh where the rear door of the strongroom was opened and unauthorised people were permitted to access and distribute wrong set of question papers among the candidates.

'SC did not direct to break Dallewal's fast'

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY @ New Delhi

A bench of Justices Surya Kant and Ujjal Bhuyan on Thursday clarified that the Supreme Court never directed to break farmer leader Jagjit Singh Dallewal's indefinite fast and had only expressed concerns over his health and wanted him to get urgent medical aid.

The court also pulled up the Punjab government and said its officials, and some farmer leaders, were making irresponsible statements and projecting a false impression in the media over attempts to break Dallewal's fast. The top court said its orders for Dallewal's hospitalisation were not to break his fast but to ensure his well being, adding that the farmer leader can continue his hunger strike under medical aid.

Punjab advocate general Gurminder Singh assured that efforts were on to persuade Dallewal to take medical aid as well as the agitating farmers to join the dialogue with the court-appointed committee.

Inauguration of college named after Savarkar triggers political controversy

IFRAH MUFTI @ New Delhi

AN announcement for inaugurating a new college named after Hindutva ideologue VD Savarkar triggered a political row, with the Congress and its student wing, NSUI, demanding that the college be renamed after former prime minister Manmohan Singh.

After the announcement, the NSUI wrote to the PM making three demands. "A world-class college under the University of Delhi named after Dr Manmohan Singh; a Central university dedicated to his name; and inclusion of his life journey– from a post-Partition student to a global icon – in academic curricula and political sphere," the NSUI's letter stated.

"Dr Singh's legacy as a scholar, economist, and public servant embodies resilience, merit, and dedication to public welfare. Naming institutions after him will inspire generations and honour his transformative vision," the letter read.

Congress MP Syed Naseer Hussain said, "There were many freedom fighters who sacrificed their lives for the sovereignty and freedom of the country. Had they named the college after any one of them, it would have been a tribute to them." He added, "Since the BJP has no leaders or icons, they are promoting and legitimising those who supported the British Raj."

The Veer Savarkar College will be constructed at an estimated cost of ₹140 crore. The PM is scheduled to lay its foundation stone, along with two other major initiatives for DU – an academic block in the eastern campus at Surajmal Vihar in east Delhi and another in the western campus at Dwarka. With an investment of over ₹600 crore, the new campuses will provide state-of-the-art facilities for education and research.

"We can't be more proud to learn that now the University of Delhi will have campuses in all directions – North, South, East and West. The PM will inaugurates these projects tomorrow and his purpose is to offer affordable and good education to all students. Through these projects, we will create new seats and new opportunities for the students," said Professor Yogesh Singh, DU V-C.

"The projects will be completed in around two years and we thank the government for providing us a funding of ₹600 crore. We have made arrangements to livecast the footage when the Prime Minister will inaugurate the campuses," professor Singh said.

PM Modi to lay foundation stone today

The PMO said in a statement that Prime Minister Narendra Modi will on Friday lay the foundation stone of Veer Savarkar College in Roshanpura, Najafgarh. "The projects will be completed in around two years and we thank the government for providing us a funding of ₹600 crore. We have made arrangements to livecast the footage when the PM will inaugurate the campuses," DU V-C Yogesh Singh said.

'Return of Maha farm land soon'

MahaYuti govt amends revenue law code to give back 4.9K acres of land to original farmers

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

MAHARASHTRA cabinet on Thursday decided to amend the existing land revenue code and return the 4,949 acres of defaulted agriculture land to original farmers from whom these parcels were taken and seized due to non-payment of government dues and taxes.

The decision benefits 973 farmers in Maharashtra. Amendments to Section 220 of the Maharashtra Land Revenue Code of 1966 were approved, paving the way for returning the defaulted lands to the original owners.

The farmers can now get their lands back by paying a quarter of the ready reckoner rate. Also called the circle rate or guidance value refers to the minimum valuation set by the state government for properties in a particular area.

These confiscated lands, called Tagai Pad lands, are of class II and are in the possession of respective District Collectors. After 12 years, the lands are auctioned to recover the amount due and interest on it. Any amount remaining goes back to the farmers. It is much more than the amount from the farmers to the government.

The government has not been earning much revenue through this conventional procedure for long. That prompted the Cabinet to amend the law and permit farmers to take back their lands by paying a set amount of the reckoner rate.

"Once this decision is executed, these confiscated lands will become Category. These parcels will also be re-registered to complete the transfer procedure," said Revenue Minister Chandrashekhar Bawankule.

He said that the decision would relieve the farmers who had failed to pay the taxes for various reasons like debt, drought, and other difficulties. "This decision was pending before the state government for the last 50 years. And I am happy that, as revenue minister, I made this decision in the larger interest of the farmers. I am grateful to my chief minister, Devendra Fadnavis, who supported this decision and approved the amendment in law in the cabinet meeting as well," the revenue minister said.

Meanwhile, CM Devendra Fadnavis has directed the implementation of AI technology to ensure seamless entry for citizens into Mantralaya without compromising on security.

The directive comes in response to the high volume of visitors from across the state who visit the administrative headquarters for various official purposes, which puts considerable pressure on the security apparatus.

It also created unique identification numbers for infrastructure projects, similar to Aadhar IDs for individuals. It will prevent duplication of development works across departments. Identical to the Aadhaar system that eliminated bogus beneficiaries, all project information will be available on a single dashboard.

It will be integrated with PM Gati Shakti Portal, Rural Development Portal, and Maharashtra Remote Sensing Application Center to ensure balanced development and optimal resource utilization.

RJD home truth: Dad, son agree to disagree on Nitish

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

LALU Prasad and his son Tejashwi Prasad Yadav are apparently not on same page on the issue of Nitish Kumar returning to the INDIA bloc, even as the JD(U) leader gave an "evasive" reply to the RJD chief's statement that "doors were open for the CM".

"What are you saying," asked Nitish in his cryptic response to Lalu's offer. Nitish made the remark while talking to media-persons at Raj Bhavan, where he attended the swearing-in of Arif Mohammad Khan as the governor. When asked whether the state government would be able to complete its term, Khan said, "This is not the question for such an occasion. Today (swearing-in ceremony) is a happy day. Let us only talk about good things."

On Wednesday, Lalu told a YouTube channel, "Our doors are open for Nitish Kumar. He should also unbolt his gates."

Lalu's remark triggered speculation whether Nitish would switch sides again. In January last year, the JD (U) leader had severed his ties with the INDIA bloc to form a new government with the BJP.

Meanwhile, former deputy chief minister Tejashwi Yadav sought to downplay Lalu's remarks, stating that his father made the statement to "satisfy the curiosity of the media."

Talking to media persons at the swearing-in of the new governor, Tejashwi said, "What else would he (Lalu Yadav) say? He was simply addressing your questions. New Year will witness the end of the Nitish Kumar-led NDA government."

He accused Nitish of being "captive" to a small group of advisors and no longer capable of running Bihar.

NIA court convicts 28 for killing ABVP man during Kasganj rally

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Lucknow

THE National Investigation Agency (NIA) court of Lucknow convicted 28 of the 30 accused in the high-profile Chandan Gupta murder case. Victim Chandan Gupta alias Abhishek Gupta was shot during the Tiranga Yatra, organised by Vishwa Hindu Parishad (VHP), as part of the Republic Day celebrations on January 26, 2018 in Kasganj district.

The court acquitted two accused giving them the benefit of doubt in the dearth of evidence. The quantum of punishment is expected to be delivered on Friday. Chandan, an activist of Akhil Bharatiya Vidyarthi Parishad, accompanied by his brother Vivek, was riding a motorbike during the yatra.

As per the prosecution, as the yatra reached Government Girls College on Tehsil Road, it was ambushed by a group of anti-social elements from Muslim community. The main accused, Saleem, targeted Chandan Gupta. He sustained a bullet injury and was declared dead upon reaching the hospital.

BSF allowing infiltrators to India to destabilise Bengal, says Mamata

SULAGNA SENGUPTA @ Kolkata

WEST Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee on Thursday accused the Border Security Force of allowing infiltration from Bangladesh and alleged that they were doing so as part of a Central government's "blueprint" to destabilise the state.

During an administrative review meeting, the CM accused the BSF of "sending goons and murderers across the border" from Bangladesh. She also expressed anger over the activities of West Bengal intelligence, saying that they "failed to track miscreants' activities inside the state."

Banerjee said she would write a condemnation letter to the Centre regarding the "illegal activities" of the BSF. "The border is guarded by BSF, not TMC. This is an inside job by the BSF, supported by a blueprint from the Central government. Without such a plan, these activities would not be possible. I told the Central government time and again that I would support them, but if I see trouble being created in my state and if anybody is helping terrorist activities, we will protest," she said.

On the state intelligence activities, Banerjee asked director general Rajeev Kumar to transfer "those who are not doing anything". "You people should give importance to those persons who are working efficiently. Don't give importance to the people who are close to you. Don't maintain a lobby," she said.

She told police officers, "The BSF is letting people enter through Islampur, Sitai and Cooch Behar and other places. The BSF is torturing women; why don't you protest that? I would tell DG Rajeev Kumar to mark those places where the BSF let infiltration take place. We are not getting information on which people are entering Bengal."

Banerjee said, "DMs and SPs did not fulfil their responsibilities to communicate details regarding people getting into India from Bangladesh. I want peace on that side of the border and here also. We do not have any bad relations. We speak the same language. People can come for medical treatment. But we should be informed of their details."

Earlier, police busted a fake passport racket being operated in the state and arrested seven people. The passports were given to people who illegally entered India from Bangladesh.

A BSF official dismissed the allegations, emphasising that the border guarding force was performing its duties with utmost sincerity.

'Transfer those who don't do anything'

"You people should give importance to those persons who are working efficiently. Don't give importance to the people who are close to you. Don't maintain a lobby," she said. MP town protests over Union Carbide waste, CM says it's not harmful

ANURAAG SINGH @ Bhopal

PROTESTS erupted at Pithampur industrial town in Madhya Pradesh's Dhar district on Thursday, hours after truckloads of toxic waste was brought from the defunct Union Carbide factory in Bhopal. The hazardous waste collected from the 1984 Bhopal gas tragedy site is scheduled to be disposed at the treatment, storage and disposal (TDSF) facility located at Tarapura village in Pithampur Industrial Area.

Pithampur, which has a population of 1.75 lakh, on Thursday witnessed massive protests by various groups against the planned incineration of the chemical waste. Some groups have called for a total shutdown on Friday.

"Send the waste generated by the American company back to the US. We don't want it here. The bandh call is to save our future generations and agricultural crops," read a pamphlet distributed by the protesters.

According to local activists, 10 tonnes of toxic waste from Union Carbide was incinerated at the Pithampur TSDF in 2015 on a trial basis. The disposal contaminated the soil, groundwater, and water sources in the nearby villages; so, incinerating 337 tonnes of waste could inflict greater harm on the environment, they claim.

Meanwhile, Madhya Pradesh Chief Minister Mohan Yadav sought to reassure people that the waste is not dangerous as its harmful effects have weakened over 40 years. "Over 60% of the 358 tonnes of waste is local soil, while the remaining 40% comprises 7-naphthol, reactor residues, and semi-processed pesticides. The 7-naphthol residue is basically a co-product of the process of making methyl isocyanate and pesticides. Experts believe its toxic effects will end after 25 years," Yadav claimed.

Debris disposal hits Char Dham road project

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

THE ongoing all-weather road project aimed at enhancing the accessibility to Char Dham shrines in Uttarakhand has hit a snag as the dumping zones created for hill-cutting debris along the Badrinath highway have reached their full capacity.

Filling up of all designated dumping zones have led debris accumulation along the highway. Though debris disposal was slated for completion in January, progress has halted due to the absence of space. The National Highways and Infrastructure Development Corporation (NHIDCL), the executing agency of the road project, is struggling to find space for debris disposal. Officials said the forest department is expected to identify new dumping areas shortly.

"The all-weather road project, spanning approximately 900 kilometres, has been underway on the Badrinath highway for nearly five years. As part of this initiative, road widening and beautification work are set to take place over a stretch of about 85 km from Nagarasu to Helang," said an official.

However, in many locations where hill cutting has occurred, landslides have become active during the monsoon season, resulting in heavy debris and boulders obstructing the highway. Significant amounts of debris have also accumulated in the areas of Kameda, Nandprayag, Kshetrapal, Gadora, Bhanetpani, Pagalnala, Belakuchi, and Gulabkoti.

According to NHIDCL officials, a total of 14 dumping zones have been established for debris disposal. However, now almost all the dumping zones — located in Purasari, Chhinka, Kaudia, Kshetrapal, and Pagalnala— have reached their full capacity.

"In addition to efforts for debris capacity augmentation, new locations have been identified at two sites, for which we have sought permission from the forest department. Each of these dumping zones will have a capacity of 100,000 cubic meters," NHIDCL manager Ankit Solanki said. "Our priority is to ensure that the road is operational before the Char Dham Yatra," he added.

Speaking to this newspaper, Uttarakhand tourism and public works department (PWD) minister Satpal Maharaj said, "The project involves the construction of a 900-kilometre all-weather road to provide better connectivity to Yamunotri, Gangotri, Kedarnath, and Badrinath."

Highlighting the strategic importance of the initiative, Maharaj said, "This project extends to regions near the China border." Emphasising the benefits for travellers, the minister said, "The new highways will make travel easier and safer, especially during monsoons and winter, when the existing roads become prone to landslides and blockages."

In October last year, the Centre informed the Supreme Court that nearly 75% of the Char Dham all-weather highway project, a key initiative of Prime Minister Narendra Modi, has been completed.

The SC set up an oversight committee in 2019 to assess the project's potential environmental impact. The initial chair, environmentalist Ravi Chopra, resigned in 2022, citing that the ministry of road transport & highways was disregarding the committee's recommendations. Retired justice A K Sikri replaced him as chairperson.

Truck driver who mowed down 15 was US national, served in Army

FBI says Shamsud-Din Jabbar solely responsible for the attack, professed allegiance to IS

NEW ORLEANS

THE FBI now says that the pickup truck driver responsible for a deadly rampage in New Orleans acted alone. Christopher Raia, deputy assistant director of the FBI's counterterrorism division, said on Thursday that the evidence now shows that Shamsud-Din Jabbar was solely responsible for the attack and professed allegiance to the Islamic State.

New Orleans pressed ahead with plans to reopen the city's famed Bourbon Street on Thursday as investigators kept digging into the background of the US Army veteran who drove a pickup truck into a crowd of New Year's revellers, killing 15 people.

The FBI said it was investigating the attack, which occurred when 42-year-old Shamsud-Din Jabbar steered around a police blockade, as a terrorist act. Investigators believe the driver was inspired by the Islamic State group.

Authorities recovered a black flag of the Islamic State in the truck, and President Joe Biden said he was told by the FBI that Jabbar, a US citizen from Texas, had posted videos to social media hours before the carnage that showed he was motivated by the militant group and expressed a desire to kill.

Shamsud-Din Jabbar

He was shot to death by police. Investigators found guns and what appeared to be an improvised explosive device in the vehicle, along with other explosive devices elsewhere in the French Quarter.

Officials fanned out to serve search warrants and spent hours at a Houston-area home thought to be connected to the investigation. But as of Thursday morning, no additional arrests were known to have been made, and it was unclear if the FBI was still actively looking for more suspects. The rampage turned festive Bourbon Street into a macabre scene of maimed victims, bloodied bodies and pedestrians fleeing for safety inside nightclubs and restaurants.

In addition to the dead, dozens of people were hurt.

By Thursday, a still-reeling city was inching back toward normal operations.

Authorities finished processing the scene early in the morning, removing the last of the bodies, and Bourbon Street was set to reopen at some point later in the day. Jabbar drove a rented pickup truck onto a sidewalk, going around a police car that was positioned to block vehicular traffic, authorities said. A barrier system meant to prevent vehicle attacks was being repaired in preparation for the Super Bowl.

10 WOUNDED IN SHOOTING OUTSIDE NEW YORK NIGHTCLUB

NEW YORK: Ten people were wounded in a shooting outside a New York City nightclub while they were waiting to get into a private event, police said. About 15 people were standing outside Amazura nightclub at 11.15 pm on Wednesday in Jamaica, Queens, when four men on foot approached the group of 16 to 20 year olds. Three or four men opened fire on the group, New York Police Department Chief of Patrol Philip Rivera said during an early Thursday news conference. About 30 shots were fired before the gunmen fled on foot. They were then seen getting into a sedan with out-of-state plates. There is "zero tolerance for these senseless shootings," Rivera said. "And those responsible for this crime will be apprehended and brought to justice." Six females and four males were taken to hospitals with non-life-threatening injuries, he said. A massive police presence and several ambulances could be seen outside Amazura in footage posted on social media. The motive was not immediately known but Rivera said: "This is not terrorism." The detectives are investigating whether it was gang-related, he added. AP

Robust performance by auto companies in December further bolstered buying sentiment, fueling the rally

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

DOMESTIC equity markets surged on Thursday, the second trading session of 2025, driven by optimism over improved third-quarter earnings. Robust performance by auto companies in December further bolstered buying sentiment, fueling the rally.

Benchmark indices, BSE Sensex and NSENifty50, gained about 2% with the former breaching the 80,000 mark in intraday deals. At close, the Sensex was up 1,436.30 points or 1.83% at 79,943.71, and the Nifty surged 445.75 points or 1.88% to close at 24,188.65.

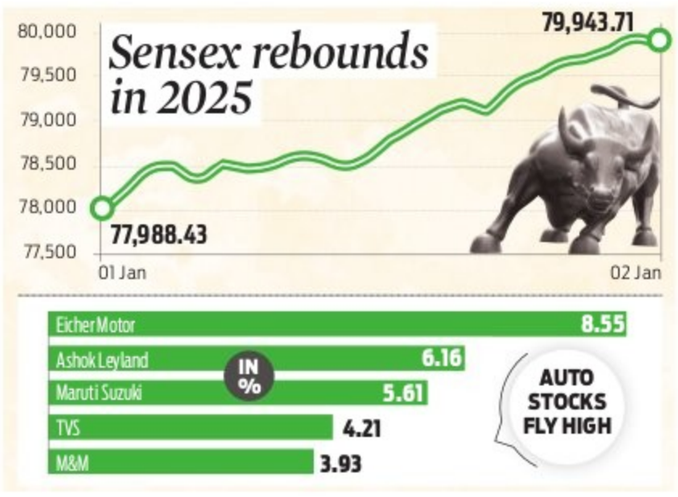
The sharp rally added more than ₹6 lakh crore to investors' kitty as the market capitalization of all BSE listed companies grew from ₹445.94 lakh crore on Wednesday to ₹452 lakh crore on Thursday. Foreign institutional investors (FIIs) also joined the part as they were net buyers (purchased shares worth ₹1,507 crore) on Thursday.

All the sectoral indices closed in the green. The auto index, led by heavyweight Maruti Suzuki, zoomed 3.5% and the IT index was up 2%.

"Increased momentum was observed in the domestic market, driven by optimism about the upcoming earnings season starting next week. The rally was broad-based, with most sectoral indices posting gains," said Vinod Nair, head of research, Geojit Financial Services. Nair added, "The auto sector led the way, showing the strongest momentum due to robust December sales that defied usual subdued demand. Banking and IT stocks performed well, as the economy bottomed in Q2." In Nifty50 pack, the biggest gainers were Bajaj twins, Eicher Motor, Maruti Suzuki and Shriram Finance. In the broader market, BSE Midcap and Smallcap indices added 1% each.

Shares of Bajaj Finance and Bajaj Finserv soared up to 8.5% on Thursday, setting a positive tone for the financial sector. The optimism came after foreign brokerage Citi reaffirmed its 'BUY' rating on Bajaj Finance with an ambitious price target of ₹8,150, an upside of more than 17% from its closing price on Wednesday.

Santosh Meena, head of research at Swastika Investmart said that the market had been extremely oversold for several days, with FIIs holding heavy short positions in index futures. "From a technical perspective, Nifty had been struggling to sustain above its 200-DMA. However, today it not only crossed the 200-DMA effortlessly but also managed to surpass the 50-DMA and 20-DMA levels. This momentum is likely to continue, with the next target being the 100-DMA, around the 24,600 level," added Meena.



With $20.5 bn from IPOs, Dalal Street 2nd busiest mkt

The number of initial public offers also increased 40% from 2023, making it the busiest year since the IPO frenzy during the mid-90s

Elaine Tan, senior manager at LSEG Deals Intelligence

Equity proceeds doubled

Total equity capital markets (ECM) proceeds more than doubled to $72.3 bn, marking the highest-ever annual total since records began in 1980. The IPO momentum may continue in 2025

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

DALAL Street has been the second busiest market in the world, with a mop-up of $20.5 billion from the initial public offerings (IPOs). This is the best-ever show in value and also the highest since records began in the 1980s—40% more than the previous record in term of volume in 2024.

The Indian market occupied 18% of the primary market share, after the US, which leads the listing space with 28% market share. China, which took the lead in 2023, is at a distant third with just 7% market share.

As per the data compiled by LSEG Deals Intelligence, the market data services arm of the London Stock Exchange Group, 2024, was a stellar year for the domestic equity capital markets with a record fundraising through IPOs. Total equity capital markets (ECM) proceeds more than doubled to $72.3 billion, marking the highest-ever annual total since records began in 1980. Of this IPOs alone chipped in with a record-breaking $20.5 billion, which is an all-time high, led by major listings from Hyundai Motor India ($3.3 bn) and Swiggy ($1.3 bn), Elaine Tan, a senior manager at LSEG Deals Intelligence said.

"The number of IPOs also increased 40% from 2023, making it the busiest year since the IPO frenzy during the mid-90s. This has India establishing itself as a dominant player in the global IPO markets, with 18% global IPO proceeds, second only to the US, which netted 28% of the total pie; and China, which was the leader in 2023, is at a distant third with just 7%," Tan said, adding "with a robust IPO pipeline, the momentum is expected to continue in 2025."

IT companies may report surge in Q3 revenue growth

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

THOUGH there will be seasonal furloughs, IT services firms are likely to perform better and will report improvement in growth momentum in the third quarter of this financial year.

Starting next week, IT firms will announce their December quarter results. The country's largest IT services firm Tata Consultancy Services will report its Q3 results on January 9 and the board will consider and approve the third interim dividend for FY25. The record date for dividend will be on January 17.

Emkay Global Financial Services in its research report said recovery in BFSI will aid growth, while weakness in manufacturing, mainly auto, is likely to weigh on growth. "BFSI is showing signs of healthy recovery, but uncertainties remain on pace of recovery in other verticals. Seasonal furloughs and lower working days should keep revenue growth muted on a QoQ basis," it said.

HCLTech might lead organic revenue growth in tier-1 companies. It says the IT firm will raise its guidance to 4.5-5.5% (from 3.5-5%), factoring in CTG (Communications Technology Group) acquisition. In May, it acquired the CTG, a business division of HPE for $225 million. In Q2, Infosys revised its FY25 revenue guidance from 3-4% to 3.75-4.5% on the back of performance in Q2 and ramp up of mega deals pipeline. Emkay said in Q3, deal wins might remain similar to Q2. However, absence of mega deals and weak discretionary spending should continue to weigh on deal intake in Q3.

Brokerage firm Motilal Oswal Financial Services expects tier-2 firms to continue to outpace tier-1 firms in growth during third quarter. While the initial phase of recovery in 1HFY25 was sluggish, it sees clear signs of an acceleration. "Recovery appears to be expanding beyond US BFSI, which continues to strengthen, into additional industry verticals like Hi-Tech, which is recovering ahead of schedule. The most important catalyst for the sector would come after 3QFY25, when client budgets for CY25 would be finalised and the magnitude of change in client behavior would become clearer," it said.

Blinkit 10-min ambulance service in G'gram

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

ZOMATO'S quick commerce platform Blinkit on Thursday launched its 10 minutes Ambulance Service in select areas of Gurugram. In the testing phase, currently, Blinkit will scale the service and expand to other cities.

"This is our first step in solving the problem of providing reliable ambulance service in our cities. Our aim is to carefully scale this service up and expand to all major cities in the next two years," said Albinder Dhindsa, founder and chief executive officer, Blinkit. In a post on X, he said, "As we expand the service to more areas, you will start seeing an option to book a Basic Life Support (BLS) ambulance through the @letsblinkit app." He said it is both important and new to us and that profit is not a goal here. "We will operate this service at an affordable cost for customers and invest in really solving this critical problem for the long term," he added.

Blinkit said these ambulances will be stocked with essential life-saving equipment, including oxygen cylinders, AED (automated external defibrillator), stretcher, monitor, suction machine, and essential emergency medicines and injections.

They will be equipped with a scoop stretcher and a wheelchair to safely transport those in need.

Hyundai unveils Creta electric with two battery choices, 473 km range

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

HYUNDAI Motor India's (HMIL) first locally manufactured mass electric vehicle (EV) – the Creta Electric – will come with two battery packs – a 51.4 kWh (Long Range) offering a driving range of 473 km and a 42 kWh offering a driving range of 390 km in a single charge.

The company claims that the EV can be charged from 10% to 80% in just 58 minutes (DC charging), while the 11kW Smart Connected Wall Box charger can charge from 10%-100% in 4 hours (AC Home Charging).

The Korean automaker on Thursday revealed the much-anticipated product ahead of its expected debut at Bharat Mobility Global Expo on January 17. Creta Electric will compete against Mahindra & Mahindra's BE6, Tata Motor's Curvv, MG Motor's ZS EV and soon-to-be-launched Maruti Suzuki e-Vitara.

The specs revealed by Hyundai show that Creta Electric is fitted with a smaller battery pack and gives a lower range when compared with peers (except for MG Motor's ZS EV). The Mahindra BE 6, with its 79kWh and 59kWh options, gives a claimed range of 682 km and 556 km, respectively, and has the largest batteries in the segment. Tata Curvv EV comes second as it gives a claimed range of 503 km with larger 55kWh battery.

As per reports, the e-Vitara will be fitted with single and dual motor setups - a 49 kWh and a larger 61 kWh battery pack. Its range is expected to top the 500km mark.

Hyundai is banking on the strong brand reputation of the Creta, which has dominated the mid-size SUV market since its launch, achieving cumulative sales of over 1.1 million units.

"We are confident that the Hyundai CRETA Electric will set a new standard in quality for electric SUVs in India and will redefine the success of EVs in the country," said Tarun Garg, Whole-Time Director and Chief Operating Officer, Hyundai Motor India Limited.

Sebi rejects Zee, Punit Goenka's settlement offers

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

MARKET regulator Sebi on Thursday rejected the settlement offers filed by Zee Entertainment Enterprises (ZEEL) and its chief executive Punit Goenka for alleged violation of listing norms. The Sebi also said the regulator will conduct further investigation into both entities and Essel Group chairman Subhash Chandra.

In an adjudication order passed by Sebi, a panel of whole-time members have rejected the applications filed by both for settlement and have instead referred the matter for further investigation.

"Following the investigation, it has been decided to proceed against the noticees under section 11B of Sebi Act, 1992," Sebi said. Under Sebi's settlement proceedings regulations 2018, any entity against whom proceedings have been initiated or are to be initiated can apply to settle the proceedings by paying a fee and/or by complying with non-monetary terms without admitting to any wrongdoings.

According to the order, the regulator had issued a show-cause notice on July 6, 2022, to the three entities following allegations that they had violated provisions of the listing obligations and disclosure requirements (LODR) regulations.

Following this, ZEEL and Goenka filed applications to settle the adjudication proceedings. However, the whole-time Sebi members rejected the applications and also referred the matter to Sebi for further investigation.

The January 2 order also said the earlier show-cause notices will be subsumed with the findings of the further investigation by the regulator.

"Accordingly, the content of the show-cause notices dated July 6, 2022, including the examination report, and all the relied upon documents will be treated as integral part of the further investigation by Sebi," the order said.

It added that the contents of the July 6, 2022, show-cause notices to ZEEL, Chandra and Goenka will also be incorporated in the new show-cause notices to be issued following further investigations. Separately, Goenka and ZEEL are also fighting a Sebi from market for five years, after the regulator had found fund diversion. Following an appeal in the SAT, which gave an interim stay on the Sebi action, the matter is pending for final hearing.

US no longer among India's top crude oil suppliers; Russia leads with 31% share

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

THE United States no longer remains one of the top five crude oil suppliers to India as African nation Angola nudged ahead of the US in December. Russia continues to be the top suppliers of oil to India even if India's dependence on Russian oil has fallen significantly.

According to energy cargo tracking firm Vortexa, Russian crude made up 31% of India's imports, the lowest share of the year, while the US accounted for just 1%. This marks the second consecutive month of declining Russian imports, driven by reduced discounts. Meanwhile, the US dropped out of India's top five crude suppliers, with Angola moving into the fifth position. Not long ago (in August 2024), US accounted for 8% of India's crude oil imports.

US accounted for 1% of oil supplies to India

As per energy cargo tracking firm Vortexa, Russian crude made up 31% of India's imports, lowest share of the year, US accounted for 1%. This marks the second consecutive month of declining Russian imports

"In December 2024, the top five supplies included Russia, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, the United Arab Emirates, and Angola, with Angola overtaking the United States as the fifth largest crude supplier. Indian refiners turned towards African and Middle Eastern producers for crude as Russian crude exports fell. India's crude imports grew 2% year over year, summing to 4.57mbd in 2024," said Xavier Tang, Market analyst at Vortexa. However, India's overall crude imports in December increased by 4% to 4.46 million barrel per day.

India significantly increased imports from Iraq in December, which rose to 23% from 16% in November, while imports from Saudi Arabia and the UAE were 13% and 10%, respectively. In contrast, Russian crude imports fell from 36% in November to 31% in December. At one point of time, India imported as much as 44% of its supplies from Russia. The surge in Russian crude imports by Indian refiners began after the Russia-Ukraine war, when Russian oil was offered at significant discounts.

Manufacturing ends on a strong note in 2024, Dec PMI slowest at 56.4

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

THE manufacturing activity has reported its weakest reading of 2024 in December, with the manufacturing purchasing managers index (PMI) falling to 56.4, down from 56.5 in November. Yet the sector remained in the expansion mode throughout the year gone-by, according to the data from an analysis by a private agency.

Final reading is surprising as this came in a month when the cost pressures have eased and strong job growth was reported, yet demand was softer in the sector, HSBC India said on Thursday.

As per the report, the headline reading for December at 56.4 is down marginally from 56.5 in November, yet the reading is above the long-run average of 54.1, signalling a robust growth rate. Both output and new orders, a key gauge for demand, continued to rise in final month of the year but on a softer note.

On the employment front, the data indicate that the rate of job creation quickened to the fastest in four months. Around one-in-ten companies hired extra staff, while fewer than 2% of them shed jobs.

Not only did manufacturing employment increase for the tenth month in a row during December, but also the rate of job creation quickened to the fastest in four months, said the report.

"Manufacturing activity ended on a strong note in 2024 despite the December reading being soft, amidst more signs of a slowing trend, albeit moderate, in the industrial sector.

The rate of expansion in new orders was the slowest in the year, suggesting weaker growth in future production.

That said, there was some uplift in growth of new export orders, which rose at the fastest pace since July. The rise in input prices eased slightly, wrapping up the year when manufacturers felt the strain of sharp cost pressures," said Ines Lam, an economist at HSBC.

Sebi allows ICEX to voluntarily exit market

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

CLOSE to two years after the Indian Commodity Exchange (ICEX) had requested the Securities and Exchange Board (Sebi) to voluntarily surrender its licence and recognition, the regulator has accepted the same.

In a notification on Thursday, the regulator said it has accepted the request, made in February 2023, with effect from December 26, permitting it exchange to stop functioning as a stock exchange. The Sebi had passed the order on December 10, 2024, it said in a statement.

The Sebi has also asked ICEX to change its name and not retain 'exchange' or any variant in the name if it plans to continue as a corporate entity.

In May 2023, its shareholders had approved a voluntary surrender of its recognition.

The ICEX which was granted recognition as a commodity derivatives exchange in 2009. In 2022, the regulator had withdrawn the recognition granted to it "due to non-compliance with the minimum networth requirement, circular issued by Sebi, observations of Sebi pursuant to inspection and infrastructural requirements.

The ICEX appealed the Sebi order at the Securities Appellate Tribunal (SAT) and the tribunal, in its June 2022 order, had set aside the market regulator's order subject to certain conditions. The SAT said the operations at the exchange would remain suspended until ICEX raised the requisite funds and completed all compliances that the Sebi demanded within a year. If the exchange could raise the funds and meet the compliance requirements, then it could apply to Sebi for permission to resume its operations.

In February 2023, the ICEX approached the Sebi seeking some relaxation in norms on the ownership structure saying though the management tried to raise funds, could not do so as the applicable shareholding norms restrict maximum shareholding up to 5 percent. This clause, according to ICEX, made the proposition "unattractive for the new investors".

ICEX requested whether new investors could be allowed to invest up to 51% in the exchange for five years.

Salima dedicates Arjuna to teammates

KALYANI MANGALE @ Chennai

FOR her contribution to Indian hockey, women's team captain Salima Tete was named amongst the Arjuna Awardees in the National Sports Awards 2024 list announced on Thursday. The 23-year-old took over captaincy from Savita Punia last year and was instrumental in India defending their Asian Champions Trophy title in Rajgir, Bihar.

Always a team player, Tete dedicated the award to her team. "I believe this is my team's award. It has my name on it but, truly this honour equally belongs to my team. You cannot simply do all things by yourself in the team game so I would like to thank my team first. I know this award will work as a motivation for everyone," she told this daily.

One of the players from the famous Simdega hockey nursery, Tete made her debut for the national side in 2017 and has 122 caps so far. She was part of the side that came close to winning the country's first-ever women's hockey medal when Rani Rampal led the side to fourth-place finish in Tokyo. Known for her speed and precision, Tete was given the responsibility of leading the side ahead of the ACT last year.

With the Women's Hockey India League approaching soon, Tete was at practice with her Soorma Hockey Club teammates when her former captain and Arjun Awardee herself, Rani Rampal, told her the happy news. "I was at the practice and it was Rani di who told me that I had received the award. I could not believe it at first and couldn't put my emotions into words. All of my teammates were hugging me and congratulating me so it felt really good to celebrate it with them. The first thought that came to my mind was that I should call my family and let them know, but they knew before I could tell them." "I would like to thank my coaches including national coach Harinder Singh, teammates, and family. I wouldn't have achieved this without their support," Tete added.

Award motivates athletes: Swimmer Sajan

Double Olympian Swimmer Sajan Prakash was also named in the list for the Arjuna Award. "This national Award will help me in my endeavour to do well in the future. I applied but was not sure whether I would be getting it." About change in policies of the Arjuna Awards, he told this daily, "Different sports have different levels of difficulties and swimming is one of the toughest sports in the world, so sports ministry should look into this as well."

STORM BEFORE THE BIGGEST TEST

Despite dressing room 'chaos', India would be looking to salvage pride in Sydney and keep hopes of qualifying for WTC final alive

WHEN India head coach Gautam Gambhir walked into the press conference room at the Sydney Cricket Ground on Thursday afternoon, it seemed like an opportunity to put a lot of speculation to rest. Instead, by the time, he was done with his media interaction on the eve of the fifth and final Test between India and Australia, he had left them more speculation by not confirming Rohit Sharma's place in the playing XI.

As things stand, Sharma will not take part in the Sydney Test with Shubman Gill walking into his No. 3 spot after being left out of the Boxing Day Test. Sharma has been out of form, scoring just 31 runs in five innings at a 6.2 average on this tour. With him losing two of the three Tests he captained, pressure was mounting on the captain.

In the lead-up to the Sydney Test, there had been multiple reports and speculations about tension building within the Indian camp after the loss in Melbourne. India had conceded a lead after having a good chance at drawing the match heading into the final session on day five. Since then, Gambhir has reportedly spoken sternly with the team and players. Inevitably, as the press pack waited for the interaction with the Indian contingent, there were questions and murmurs doing rounds on who's going to come and whether Sharma would be dropped. As Gambhir, who had not addressed the media since landing in Australia walked in, it seemed like there would be answers for a lot of questions ahead of what is a must-win game for India.

However, from the first question, one could see that that wasn't going to be the case. When asked if everything is under control within the team, Gambhir said it is. Then came the questions on this conversation with players. Gambhir said that what happens in the dressing room stays there. "Those are reports, not truth," said Gambhir before adding, "I don't think I need to answer to any reports to be honest. There are some honest words, that's all I can say."

If all this was not enough, when he was directly asked whether Sharma would be playing on Friday, all Gambhir had to say was: "We will have a look at the wicket and probably announce our playing eleven tomorrow." He was pressed again and Gambhir said his answer remains the same. Whatever he said after didn't really seem that important. Rather than ending the speculations Gambhir ended up adding fuel to fire.

What followed after only reaffirmed the speculations. Gambhir was having a long chat with Jasprit Bumrah just outside the SCG dressing room while the team and Sharma were warming up in the middle. Once it was all done, the slip cordon looked different with Virat Kohli, KL Rahul, Nitish Reddy and Yashasvi Jaiswal standing alongside Rishabh Pant. Amidst all this, Gill, who was left out of the Boxing Day Test, was patted on the back by Gambhir before having what seemed like a congratulatory handshake with Bumrah. He then went on to train for slip catch against spinners.

Sharma, after warming up, left for the dressing room while the rest hit the nets. Even as Kohli and Ravindra Jadeja were batting in outdoor nets, Sharma could be seen talking to Washington Sundar, who seems likely to miss out on Friday. A little while later, he was having a prolonged chat with Bumrah and Gill. Even as they and the rest of the team were having a hit in the outdoor nets, Sharma was nowhere to be seen. It was only after some time he walked in without his kit, and was standing and having a chat with team analyst and Bumrah. Virat Kohli, on the other hand, was having a chat with chief selector Ajit Agarkar. Meanwhile, the regular top seven and Dhruv Jurel had an intense hit in the nets. After almost an hour, Sharma left for the dressing room only to come back all padded up. He batted for a while with Tanush Kotiyan, Abhimanyu Easwaran, and Reddy but took only throw-downs and did not face any bowlers. It went on for about half an hour before Sharma left the nets with Bumrah and Agarkar. After that Jurel once again came in and had another brief stint in the nets.

It was about 6.50 PM. The team was all but done with their training and were getting ready to leave. In one corner of the SCG dugout were Sharma and Bumrah sitting together while Gambhir was standing next to them. The captain, vice-captain and head coach had a discussion that went on for a little over five minutes. Shortly after they picked up their bags and left.

Now, Gambhir has already confirmed that Akash Deep is ruled out due to back spasm and the only, and perhaps, the biggest question of the day was whether Sharma will play or not. At this point, it should be a surprise if he does. One of the top Test openers in the world between 2019-2024, Sharma was India's best top-order batter in that phase. Since taking over captaincy, he led India to the 2023 World Test Championship final, and drew series in South Africa while beating England and Australia at home. Things went downhill from the 0-3 loss against New Zealand at home and since then, Sharma has not been able to turn things around both with the bat and in terms of results for the team. At 37, he will be 38 when India play their next Test after Sydney, one has to wait and see whether he would want to continue in the longer format going forward.

For now, it seems like Bumrah will be back at the helm in Sydney, trying to help India draw the series, retain the Border-Gavaskar Trophy and have a chance at qualifying for the World Test Championship final.

What lies ahead for ODI skipper Rohit after BGT

FIROZ MIRZA @ Chennai

"THE next stage is the WTC final and the Champions Trophy. I have full faith in Rohit Sharma's captaincy, that we will be the champions in both these tournaments," former BCCI secretary Jay Shah had said in a video message following India's T20 World Cup win in June this year. While Shah has joined as ICC chair since, Rohit's fortunes seemed to have plummeted. Though not confirmed, the 37-year-old Mumbai cricketer is set to sit out of the final Test of the Border-Gavaskar Trophy in Sydney. This despite being announced as a captain for the entire series, the first of its kind in the Indian cricket. Having already retired from the shortest format after the World Cup triumph, the recent turn of events has put under the scanner Rohit's future as the ODI captain as well.

But it's Indian cricket and anything can happen. Rohit, with a batting average of just 6.20 in the ongoing Border-Gavaskar Trophy, certainly suffered an ignominy of having the worst-ever figure by a visiting captain in Australia. However, Rohit's numbers in 50-over format are still brilliant and get a notch higher when taken into consideration with him as a captain.

Above all, India have played only six ODIs since the loss against Australia in the World Cup final on November 19, 2023. In fact, in the lead-up to the tournament, Rohit had led India to Asia Cup title. Soon after the WC defeat, they toured South Africa and played three ODIs apart from as many T20Is and two Test matches. Rohit opted out of the white-ball series. More than eight months later, they played three-match ODI series against hosts Sri Lanka, with Rohit returning as the captain.

Since his ODI debut in 2017, Rohit has played 265 matches for the country so far with an impressive average of 49.16. He is the only batter to slam three double centuries and his 264 against Sri Lanka in 2014 is the highest individual score in the format. More importantly, his average shoots to 55.10 as captain.

Besides, he was the second leading scorer in the last ODI WC with 597 runs from 11 matches, only behind teammate Virat Kohli (765). His strike rate of 125.94 as an opener, however, was one of the reasons behind India's stellar show in the tournament. Rohit is also only third Indian captain to win the World Cup after Kapil Dev and MS Dhoni. With Champions Trophy (starting February 19) round the corner, it looks unlikely the Indian cricket board will opt for a new ODI captain. Before the tournament, they are scheduled to play a three-match ODI series against visiting England next month and in all probability Rohit will once again lead the side.

Former Australia all-rounder Shane Watson is confident of Rohit returning to form in the CT. "I don't think it (current poor form) will really play a part at all with Rohit Sharma and Virat's impact in one-day cricket. It's going to be different conditions where they're playing in Dubai. One-day cricket does really free them both as well," said Watson. Speaking on Rohit, he said, "We'll see that again in the Champions Trophy. Rohit, like we saw in the one-day World Cup (2023), when he was at his very best, he was taking on the game. It's more difficult to be able to do that in Test cricket."

But again it's Indian cricket and everything cannot be taken on the face value. Ahead of the England white-ball series, selectors will sit down to pick up the T20I and ODI squads. Rohit may again be announced as the leader of the ODI side as Shah had said after the T20 WC win. However, it all depends on what Rohit decides after the Sydney Test and for that one can only wait.

The move was initiated by Sahal's corner, marking MBSG's 15th set-piece goal.

The hosts continued their dominance into the second half with Cummings getting into the scoresheet in the 51st minute. 'Hope my goals help Arsenal win title'

AGENCIES @ London

GABRIEL Jesus is determined to keep scoring as Arsenal look to end their more than 20-year wait for a Premier League title.

Jesus was on target again during a 3-1 comeback win away to Brentford on Wednesday, the Brazil striker scoring his sixth goal in four games. It was all a far cry from a previously woeful run of just one goal in 33 appearances for the 27-year-old Brazilian, a four-time Premier League winner with now struggling champions Manchester City.

Arsenal, who last won the English title in 2004, will have the chance to cut table-toppers Liverpool's lead to just three points when they travel to Brighton on Saturday — the day before Arne Slot's side face Manchester United at Anfield.

Liverpool also have a game in hand on the Gunners. "I just want to keep winning and scoring and helping the team, the club, to be there always fighting for the title," Jesus said. "I know it's a long way, we have to look for ourselves and then obviously after, we want the top of the league to drop points. But we have to look at ourselves and do our job like we did today." Arsenal have finished runners-up to City for the past two seasons and start 2025 once again in second place. "The previous two years were amazing," said Jesus. "Obviously, we did not win, but we fought until the end.

HIL: UP Rudras blank Soorma Hockey Club

AGENCIES @ Rourkela

UP Rudras blanked Soorma Hockey Club 3-0 in their Hero Hockey India League contest here on Thursday. Sudeep Chirmako (2') scored early in the game for the UP Rudras, while Soorma Hockey Club created multiple opportunities in the second quarter but the UP Rudras held firm and Jobanpreet Singh (38') doubled their lead in the third quarter.

Akashdeep Singh (58') scored in the last quarter to seal the UP Rudras' second win in the league. UP Rudras took control of the game right from the push off, forcing Soorma Hockey Club to defend deep.

The Rudras stepped it up a notch in the third quarter, putting together incisive passes around Soorma players. At the 38-minute mark, Chirmako, from the left wing, pulled the ball back to Jobanpreet Singh who pushed the ball into goal and doubled UP Rudra's lead in the game. The UP Rudras earned a couple of penalty corners with five minutes left in the game but failed to capitalise. Soon after, Hardik Singh initiated a counterattack and passed it to Akashdeep Singh. He made it 3-0 for the UP Rudras with a reverse tomahawk.
